TWO GREAT NOVELS

Already in 3d Large Edition

THE TIDES OF BARNEGAT

By F. HOPKINSON SMITH

Illustrated in tint by GEORGE WRIGHT. $1.50

"The strongest work he has done."—Springfield Republican.

"His plot is original, his characters unusual in their vitality and in the hold they take upon the reader's interest. He may be trusted to keep 'a great gulf fixed' between right and wrong. The book is well named not only in reference to the story's scene of action, but to its variety, movement, charm, and beneath all these its effortless strength."—New York Times Review.

Already in 2d Large Edition

WHISPERING SMITH

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN

Illustrated in color by N. C. WYETH. $1.50

"With the very first page the reader is plunged into a tale of engrossing action."—Record-Herald.

"Exciting, graphic, full of adventures by field and forest and of hard riding and deadly gun play, the reader's attention is not allowed to flag an instant."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

FALL BOOKS Illustrated in Colors

PETER PAN

By J. M. BARRIE

With 50 illustrations in full colors by Arthur Rackham. 8vo, $5.00 net.

The full and complete story of Peter Pan, famous from "The Little White Bird" and from the play, and illustrated in the most striking and beautiful way by the distinguished water colorist, Arthur Rackham. One of the most beautiful books that has been brought out in years.

ON NEWFOUND RIVER

By THOMAS NELSON PAGE

A rewritten and enlarged version of Mr. Page's early love story, representing the perfection of his power as a story-teller. It is an inimitable picture of the life he knows so well and describes so finely. With illustrations in color by John Edwin Jackson. 12mo, $1.50.

THE QUEEN'S MUSEUM and Other Fanciful Tales

By FRANK R. STOCKTON

With 10 full-page drawings in color and other drawings in black and white by Frederic Richardson. 8vo, $2.50.

A selection of the most popular of Mr. Stockton's fanciful tales, full of whimsical humor and gay spirits, brilliantly illustrated in colors by Frederic Richardson, who is a most discerning and sympathetic interpreter of Mr. Stockton's quaint imaginings. His work makes him a worthy successor of Maxfield Parrish and Jessie Wilcox Smith, whose illustrations for Eugene Field's "Poems of Childhood" and for Stevenson's "Child's Garden of Verses," respectively, were similar in general style and appearance.

THE DAWN OF A TO-MORROW

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT

Illustrated in colors, $1.00.

"The sincerity of this story, its remarkable spirit and inspiration put it in a class by itself."—Cleveland News.

"It is as full of sentiment as Dickens's 'Christmas Carol.'"—San Francisco Chronicle.

A KNIGHT OF THE CUMBERLAND

By JOHN FOX, JR.

Illustrated in colors by F. C. Yohn. 12mo, $1.00.

A most attractive and delightful love story, told with all Mr. Fox's knowledge of the mountaineers, his humor and skilful character drawing. The tournament is a unique incident, described with the humor and dramatic force that no other writer of to-day can combine in the same way. Beautifully illustrated in colors.

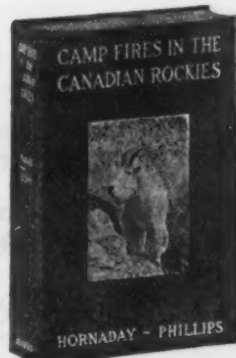

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

NEW ILLUSTRATED BOOKS

CAMP FIRES IN THE CANADIAN ROCKIES

By WILLIAM T. HORNADAY

With 70 illustrations from photographs taken by John M. Phillips and two maps. The racy, unconventional narrative of an expedition into the well-nigh inaccessible mountains of British Columbia. Illustrated from wonderful photographs. 8vo, $3.00 net; postage extra.

THE FIRST FORTY YEARS OF WASHINGTON SOCIETY

From the Letters and Journals of Mrs. Samuel Harrison Smith (Margaret Bayard). Edited by Gaillard Hunt. With numerous illustrations and portraits. 8vo, $2.50 net; postage extra.

A brilliant description of life in Washington in the early part of this century, with intimate personal portraits of such men as Jefferson, Madison, Crawford, and Clay, and much amusing gossip of the time.

BY ITALIAN SEAS

By ERNEST C. PEIXOTTO

With numerous illustrations by the author. A delightfully written and beautifully illustrated story of travel in Dalmatia, Tunis, Riviera, Malta, Sicily and Venice. 8vo, $2.50 net; postage extra.

A LITTLE BOOK OF BORES

By OLIVER HERFORD

With pictures by the author. $1.00 net; postage extra.

A bore for each letter of the alphabet described in a verse and a drawing full of the whimsical humor and gay satire which have made Mr. Herford's books so popular.

THE NEW FIELD AND FOREST HANDY BOOK

New Ideas for Out of Doors

By DAN BEARD

Profusely illustrated by the author and uniform with his previous books. Square 8vo, $2.00.

A new book for boys along Mr. Beard's well-known lines with a wealth of new ideas, an inexhaustible mine of amusement, recreation and practical information for every boy.

THINGS WORTH DOING and How to Do Them

By LINA and ADELIA BEARD

Profusely illustrated by the authors and uniform with their previous books. Square 8vo, $2.00.

An infinite variety of things worth doing for girls, clearly explained and illustrated, and with innumerable new ideas and suggestions of the most ingenious and practical kind.

THE RUSSIAN GRANDMOTHER'S FAIRY

By LOUISE SEYMOUR HOUGHTON

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

NEW FALL FICTION

SIR JOHN CONSTANTINE

By A. T. QUILLER-COUCH

12mo. $1.50

There are highly dramatic moments, hairbreadth escapes, desperate ventures and tender love passages, all environed by the wonderful beauty of Corsica.

Chicago Inter-Ocean.

It is a story long to remember.—Washington Star.

A gallant romance.—N. Y. Globe.

THE DISTRACTIONS OF MARTHA

By MARION HARLAND

12mo. Illustrated. $1.25

An amusing and suggestive tale of the trials and adventures of a young housewife, especially in her relation to the servant question in the suburbs.

It ought to delight a large public.—N. Y. Evening Sun.

No well regulated bride's household should be without it.—N. Y. Globe.

THE ROBBERIES COMPANY, LTD.

By NELSON LLOYD

12mo. Frontispiece. $1.50

A most original and ingenious company tries an experiment on the hero which results in a series of adventures that make a delightfully witty, satirical, and entertaining story. The romance, humor, and keen satire in the tale make a very unusual novel.

One of the most startling plots it has ever been our luck to encounter.—N. Y. Sun.

TWO LEGS

By CARL EWALD; Translated by A. TEIXEIRA DE MATTOS

16mo. $1.00

The poetic, fanciful and humorous story of the stages of man's conquest of animal creation. A novel and graceful idea handled with the most perfect lightness and skill.

TRUEGATE OF MOGADOR and Other Cedarton Folks

Illustrated. 12mo. $1.50

By SEWELL FORD

This title story has had the greatest success of any recent magazine short story and the twelve or other tales of the same people and region make a volume of rare and refreshing humor.

By RICHARD HARDING DAVIS

REAL SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE

Illustrated. 12mo, $1.50 net; postage extra.

The stories of nine adventurous spirits of our own day, the true account of whose lives and experiences reads like the wildest romance. Mr. Davis writes of such men as General William Walker, Baron Harden-Hickey, The Three Sherringtons, General MacIver and Winston Churchill of England.

FARCES, "THE GALLOPER," "THE DICTATOR," AND "MISS CIVILIZATION."

With eighteen illustrations of scenes in the plays. 8vo, $1.50 net; postage extra.

These three farces read even better than they acted, and represent the best of Mr. Davis's recent work. They are bound together in an attractive volume, prettily illustrated from scenes in the plays.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

NEW BOOKS

THE ART OF THE SINGER

Practical Hints About Vocal Technics and Style By W. J. HENDERSON

A work of the greatest practical interest and value to singers and lovers of singing, presenting the best that was taught by the old masters of singing and the practice of leading singers of our own day. 12mo, $1.25 net; postage extra.

An admirable performance, instructive and interesting in an exceptional degree.

—N. Y. Sun.

LIBERTY, UNION AND DEMOCRACY

The National Ideals of America

By BARRETT WENDELL

These lectures, originally given at the Sorbonne and later at the Lowell Institutes, put forth the manner in which American temper has conceived its political ideals and explain what America has striven to be as distinguished from what it has actually done. 12mo, $1.25 net; postage extra.

A FRONTIER TOWN and Other Essays

By HENRY CABOT LODGE

Essays as remarkable for their literary skill and charm with which they are written as for the interest of their subjects. They take up such subjects as Good Citizenship, The Senate, Theodore Roosevelt, American History, Senator Hoar, etc. 12mo, $1.50 net; postage extra.

LORDS AND LOVERS and Other Dramas

By OLIVE TILFORD DARGAN

Remarkable plays, the publication of which will be a real literary event. Of the three plays, or rather four (since the first is in two parts), "Lords and Lovers" is of the thirteenth century in England, "The Siege," of the fourth century B.C. in Syracuse, and "The Shepherd of Lonz," a Russian drama, in prose, of the present day and consequently of a timely as well as an intense interest in its typical personages, situations, and action. 8vo, $1.50 net; postage extra.

A WHIMSEY ANTHOLOGY

By CAROLYN WELLS

A new and most amusing collection of curious forms of verse, including Shaped Poems, Alphabets, Macaronic Rhymes, Charades, Enigmas, Logical Rhymes, Palindromes, Alliterative Verse, Limericks, and many others. 12mo, limp leather, $1.50 net; cloth, $1.25 net; postage extra.

THE PRISONER AT THE BAR

By ARTHUR C. TRAIN, Asst. Dist. Att. in City of New York

A description of the administration of justice to-day, taking New York City as an example, with many amusing anecdotes and valuable suggestions and much useful practical information for laymen as well as for lawyers. 8vo, $2.00 net; postage extra.

THE TEXT OF SHAKESPEARE

By T. R. LOUNSBURY, Prof. of English in Yale University

The history of the text of Shakespeare from the beginning down to the death of Pope, with special attention to the work of Pope and Theobald and to the controversy between them. Much new and illuminating material has been found by Professor Lounsbury, and the work, which is intended for popular reading as well as for students, is of the greatest interest and value. 8vo, $2.00 net; postage extra.

INDUSTRIAL AMERICA The Berlin Lectures of 1906

By J. LAURENCE LAUGHLIN

An able and illuminating account of the industrial problems at present occupying public attention in the United States, presented in a way that a non-specialist audience would find instructive and important. With maps and diagrams. $1.25 net; postage extra.

THE HISTORY OF ANCIENT CIVILIZATION

By CHARLES SEIGNOBOS; Translated by A. H. WILDE

The first volume of this great history of civilization, a standard work abroad and remarkable for depth of scholarship and brilliancy of presentation. 12mo, $1.25 net.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

NEW BOOKS

ORIGINAL NARRATIVES OF EARLY AMERICAN HISTORY

Each volume 8vo, cloth bound, about 450 pp., $3.00 net; postage extra.

A series of volumes, the importance of which can hardly be overstated, to be prepared under the auspices of the American Historical Association, and under the general editorship, as the representative of the Association, of J. FRANKLIN JAMESON, Ph.D., LL.D. The volumes are designed to provide scholars and other individual readers of history and the libraries of schools and colleges with a comprehensive and well-rounded collection of those classical narratives on which the early history of the United States is founded.

AMONG BAVARIAN INNS

By ROY FRAPRIE

Octavo, decorated cover, with many illustrations in duogravure, $2.00.

A record of travel and observation in that part of Europe perhaps the most Bohemian and pleasure-loving.

The various phases of life in Munich, the cross-roads of Europe, the students' resorts, its carnivals and festivals, are described in a most fascinating manner. The famous old Inns, quaint mediæval cities, and the royal castles of Ludwig the Mad, are visited, and much little known and interesting information is furnished to both the tourist and the student of history and manners.

The new volume in
The Travel Lovers' Library

Uniform with
"China," "Rome,"
"Venice," "Paris,"
"Florence," etc.

CITIES OF NORTHERN ITALY

MILAN, VERONA,
PADUA, BOLOGNA and RAVENNA

By Grant Allen and
Geo. C. Williamson

Two volumes, crown 16mo, with eighty illustrations
in duogravure, boxed,
$3.00.

The last of Grant Allen's famous works of travel, completed after his death
by his life-long friend and collaborator.

CASTLES AND CHATEAUX OF OLD TOURAINE

AND THE LOIRE COUNTRY

By FRANCIS MILTOUN

Author of "Cathedrals of France," "Cathedrals and Churches of the Rhine," etc., etc.

With cover design, eight colored plates and 50 full-page illustrations and many decorations from drawings by BLANCHE McMANUS.
Octavo, decorated cover, boxed, $3.00.

The author knows every nook and cranny of the old chateaux, and has their histories and legends by heart. His knowledge of art and architecture is sound and scholarly, and his descriptions are illuminated by Miss McManus's splendid illustrations.

A Unique Volume of Travel

A WOMAN ALONE IN THE HEART OF JAPAN

By Mrs. G.
Adams-Fisher

With frontispiece in color and 32 reproductions in duogravure from original photographs, boxed, $2.50

The author's experiences were uncommon and most varied and interesting.
She went into the remotest districts of Japan to study the habits of the people, their quaint customs and the conditions of their life, so novel to the Western civilization.

RAMBLES ON THE RIVIERA

By FRANCIS MILTOUN

Author of "Rambles in Normandy" and "Rambles in Brittany," etc.

With frontispiece in color, and 32 full-page plates, cover design and many decorations from drawings by BLANCHE McMANUS, boxed, $2.50.

In all the world there is no more delightful and romantic a region. Monte Carlo; Aix-en-Provence with its memories of King Renée, Les Baux and the Courts of Love; Le Chateau D'If; all have contributed to the history and romance of the world, inspiring the masterpieces of such writers as Mistral, Dumas and Daudet.

feeling and masterly literary skill."—Phila. Press.

IN COLONIAL DAYS

By NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE

With seven colored plates and 37 other illustrations from drawings by FRANK T. MERRILL. Square quarto, decorated cover, boxed, $2.50.

A most charming holiday edition of a great author's work, which includes the following little masterpieces: "Howe's Masque-rade," "Edward Randolph's Portrait," "Lady Eleanor's Mantle," and
"Old Esther Dudley."

(Just Published)

RICHARD ELLIOTT, FINANCIER

By GEORGE CARLING

With seven illustrations by HENRY S. WATSON. $1.50.

An expose of trust methods as frank and complete as it is novel in its treatment.
The author's weapon is truth; its point sharpest satire, and its broad edge deep-cutting irony. The reader who is satiated with the cry of the amateur muck-raker and bored by the solemn arraignments of the serious minded, will appreciate Mr. Carling's well-directed ridicule, and the brilliancy of his thrusts at the hypocrisy of monopoly.

THE FIRST LORIMER BOOK

CAPTAIN JACK LORIMER

By WINN STANDISH

Illustrations by ARTHUR W. BROWN. ($1.50)

A STORY OF HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS for Boys and Girls

Jack Lorimer is the school-boys' ideal, a splendid specimen of sturdy young American manhood, and a champion of clean, honest sport. This is a foot-ball story which will appeal to every boy and girl who loves the game.

"No story of this year's issue will appeal more strongly to both boys and girls than 'Captain Jack Lorimer.'"—Boston Herald.

As in the case of the Holiday Editions of the first two volumes a splendid Christmas sale is assured
"The Giant Scissors."

The Leading Juvenile of the Year

Have you placed your first order for the new volume in Annie Fellows
Johnston's The Little Colonel Series?

THE LITTLE COLONEL MAID OF HONOR

Last year we went to press on December 10th with the third large edition of "The Little Colonel's Christmas Vacation," which was shipped clean by the 20th. The sale of this year's "Little Colonel" book will be even greater. We will be prepared for it, but cannot guarantee to fill rush orders promptly after Nov. 15. Get your stock in early and watch the pile so that you may safely estimate the quantity you should re-order.

KEEPING TRYST

By Annie
Fellows Johnston

16mo, cloth, 50 cents; or paper boards, 35 cents.

A companion volume to
"In the Desert of Waiting" and "The Three Weavers."
"Keeping Tryst" is included in "The Little Colonel's Christmas Vacation," but there has been a strong demand for its separate publication.

*Special editions will also be issued this year of
"The Three Weavers" and "In the Desert of Waiting," in paper boards, at 35 cents.*

BORN TO THE BLUE

By FLORENCE KIMBALL RUSSELL

12mo, with exceptionally excellent illustrations by R. FARRINGTON ELWELL. $1.25.

The boy is the son of a captain of the United States Cavalry stationed at a frontier post in the days when our regulars earned the gratitude of a nation. His military training is begun at a very early age; and how well he profits by the soldierly qualities of manhood and honor and modesty and courtesy instilled is brought out in a series of incidents and adventures which will appeal to every youngster.

The author is herself "of the army," and knows every detail of its life.

& COMPANY'S FALL PUBLICATIONS

The Second Volume in "THE RIVAL CAMPERS SERIES"

THE RIVAL CAMPERS AFLOAT

or, THE PRIZE YACHT VIKING

By RUEL P. SMITH, Author of "The Rival Campers." Illustrated. ($1.50)

Of "The Rival Campers" the New York Sun said: "Henry Burns is the 'Tom Brown' of America"; and the San Francisco Examiner: "It is the best boys' book since 'Tom Sawyer.'"

Every boy who read "The Rival Campers" will eagerly welcome the new volume which tells of the further adventures of Henry Burns and his friends.

Roses of St. Elizabeth Series

"The Roses of Saint Elizabeth," a dainty little story, with unusually attractive format, published last year, has furnished the name for a series of juvenile stories of a similar nature, which has been augmented this year by the three following titles:

GABRIEL AND THE HOUR-BOOK

By EVALEEN STEIN

With illustrations and decorations by ADELAIDE EVERHART.

"A thoroughly delightful little story with a picturesque subject which will please the youngsters, for whom it was intended."

—N. Y. Sun.

THE ENCHANTED AUTOMOBILE

By MARY J. SAFFORD

With illustrations and decorations by EDNA M. SAWYER.

"Recommended to all little children who would like to visit Fairyland and find out what the characters in their favorite fairy-books do when at home."—N. Y. Globe.

PUSSY-CAT TOWN

By Marion Ames Taggart

With illustrations and decorations by REBECCA CHASE.

A most unusual and delightful "cat story" of a town founded on the River Meuse by three wise and well cared for kittens as a home for the friendless and unfortunate of their kind. Written with an intimate knowledge of feline ways, and with a sprightly imagination sure to absorb its young readers.

Each one volume, square quarto, printed on tinted paper, with illustrations in color, and especially decorated cover and linings. ($1.00.)

The New Volume in THE WOODRANGER TALES WITH ROGERS' RANGERS

By G. WALDO BROWNE

Author of "The Hero of the Hills," "The Young Gunbearer," etc.

Large 12mo, cloth decorative, illustrated by L. J. BRIDGMAN. ($1.25.)

Like the "Pathfinder Tales" of J. Fenimore Cooper, these stories deal with the early pioneer days of America. The backwoods of those days were full of mystery, and lurking savages and wild beasts gave plenty of excitement for the "Rangers," which, while appealing to every boy with a spark of adventure in him, also interests him in the American history of the period, 1750.

Sales Which Make Other Sales

This is the kind of business which every bookseller values, and this is the kind he gets by introducing

Everyman's Library

The careful editing, with introductions by authors of the first rank, the excellent design, good paper, clean type and other merits of this most attractive edition, commend it strongly to the genuine book-lovers who buy regularly; and the rapid additions to the series are a constant and worthy temptation to people who already own one or more favorite volumes in this form. Wherever you sell one copy from Everyman's Library you are pretty sure to sell more.

150 Volumes Now Ready

During the summer months fifty volumes have been added to the one hundred announced last spring. This strengthens the Library in every department, affording a choice not only of "books found in every library" but many less familiar works not heretofore offered in a good moderate priced edition.

Three Popular Novels

BLIND ALLEYS By GEORGE CARY EGGLESTON

Author of "Dorothy South," "A Carolina Cavalier,"
"Daughter of the South," etc. Illustrated. Cloth. $1.50

In "Blind Alleys" George Cary Eggleston enters upon a new field of fiction, casts his work in a larger mould than any that he has hitherto used, and gives us altogether the most important novel that he has yet written.

"Blind Alleys" is a novel of New York life—not of Wall street, not of Fifth avenue, and not of the slums, but of the more typical and significant aspects of life in the great city, and of those who constitute its real and not its exceptional population. The book is full of those curious and intricate mysteries of life that abound in a great city. There is a sweet and wholesome love story, of course. Indeed, there are two of them, and altogether the novel is one of peculiarly fascinating interest.

HEARTS AND THE CROSS

By HAROLD MORTON KRAMER. Illustrated. Cloth. $1.50

Only the novels that can take hold of their readers in a new way can hope to exist under the present day conditions of fiction. This is hard to do, but every now and then a new novelist enters a fresh field, and with bold, original conception and treatment carries the public with him. "Hearts and the Cross" is a book of this class. Its author is another of the Indiana journalists that have contributed so much to recent literature. The story is of a man whose vigorous personality enables him to secure justice for himself under most trying conditions. A mysterious wanderer, he wins the better element of a somewhat rough community by his eloquence as the preacher in a neglected parish, meanwhile working in the fields for his support. His fearless honesty and sympathy provoke deadly hatred, augmented by the jealousy of the lover of the heroine whose interest in the mysterious preacher, so clearly above his present station, adds fuel to the jealous flame. Lawlessness, heroism, and noble self-sacrifice have their part in the development of an intensely dramatic plot.

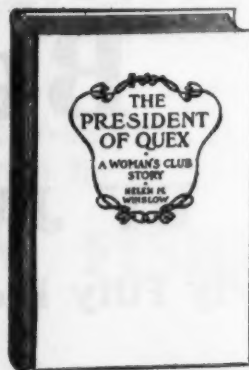

THE PRESIDENT OF QUEX A Woman's Club Story

By HELEN M. WINSLOW.

Sixteen full-page illustrations by W. L. JACOBS. $1.25

This is the first novel to deal with women's clubs from the inside, and Miss Winslow was chosen by those who encouraged this work as the best equipped of all the women writers, both in experience and in force and charm of style, to be the champion of women's organizations and show the spirit of earnestness and worthy endeavor which characterizes the modern club movement.

Under the leadership of the president and her loyal supporters, Quex becomes a power for social betterment that even a legislature must reckon with, and is especially efficient in respect to that blot upon our civilization, child labor. It comes at a time when the attention of the whole country is focussed upon that very subject, and shows what women's clubs may do in beneficial civic lines. The book is as capable of interesting an intelligent man as it is the women for whom it is especially written, and who will welcome it. No more lovable heroine appears in modern fiction than the "President of Quex."

A third volume in the series of "Quiet Talks on the Elements of the Christian Life."
So widely have the first two volumes, "Quiet Talks on Power" and "Quiet Talks on Prayer," found favor throughout the Christian world that little need be said to commend the new volume.

Yet Another Day Large Type Edition

J. H. JOWETT

A new large type edition printed in two colors. Cloth, net, 75 cents; leather.....Net, $1.00
This little book in a few short months has demonstrated its right to be classed among such devotional favorites as "Gold Dust," "Daily Light," and other equally popular and cherished books.

The Pilgrim's Progress Pilgrim Edition

JOHN BUNYAN

12mo, cloth, decorated.....75 cents
A popular reprint of the standard "Puritan" edition, acknowledged to be without a superior in point of accuracy and faithfulness to the latest revisions by Bunyan himself. With eight of the celebrated Copping illustrations—clear type, annotated.

NEW YORK, 158 Fifth Ave. CHICAGO, 80 Wabash Ave. Toronto, London, Edinburgh

Fleming H. Revell Company

The Doctor Author of "Black Rock," "The Man from Glengarry," Etc. RALPH CONNOR

A TALE OF THE ROCKIES. 12mo, cloth.....$1.50
Black Rock had its Ranchman—The Sky Pilot had its spiritual leader—The Man from Glengarry, its man from the East—and The Prospector, its miner. When moral, spiritual and physical healing is wrapped up in one vigorous heart among men of reddest blood, and Ralph Connor puts these men into a book, a great book may be expected, and it does not disappoint.

The Undertow Author of "St. Cuthbert's" ROBERT E. KNOWLES

A NOVEL. 12mo, cloth.....$1.50
Under this singularly striking title Mr. Knowles has written an exceedingly interesting novel of life. Without preaching Mr. Knowles draws from the breakers the analogy in life in a startling book for which we predict a warm welcome. ST. CUTHBERT'S has prepared for him a large public eager for the new book.

The Adventures of Billy Topsail NORMAN DUNCAN

Author of DR. LUKE OF THE LABRADOR. 12mo, illustrated.....$1.50
It's a boy's book, but it's "a book to be chummy with"—that includes everybody. A ripping story of adventure by sea is regarded by every true-hearted boy as the very best story of all. If the tale moves like a full-rigged ship with all sail spread to a rousing breeze, the boy will say "Bully!" Such is "The Adventures of Billy Topsail."

My Old Bailiwick Author of "Mamie Rose," "Wisdom of the Simple" OWEN KILDARE

SKETCHES FROM THE PARISH OF MY MAMIE ROSE. 12mo, cloth.....$1.50
Kildare was a real Bowery Man. There his wits were sharpened and his intellect has survived and triumphed. His biography is brilliant and pathetic—his story one of the last of the district.

Fairest Girlhood MARGARET E. SANGSTER

Illustrated by life studies specially posed and photographed by W. B. Dyer. Quarto, cloth . . . Net, $1.50
None knows the girl-heart as does Margaret Sangster, and we yield to none in daintiness of manufacture of this gem. Its predecessor, "Winsome Womanhood," has long charmed the woman-heart and become standard as a gift for young women.

Why the Robin's Breast is Red Author of "J. COLE"

A New Story by EMMA GELLIBRAND. Decorated in colors.....Net, 75 cents
A daintily drawn story from the lives of a few bird families. There are chirps of appeal and trills of pathos and songs of joy in the pages of this beautiful bird-book, whose word-pictures are deftly drawn by the gifted author of "J. Cole."

On the Trail of the Immigrant EDWARD STEINER

12mo, cloth, illustrated.....Net, $1.50
From the trail to the city, and as the stranger within our gates, Mr. Steiner traces the foreigner from all over Europe until he settles in his "quarter" or assimilates with and mingles among the American citizens.

S. H. Hadley of Water Street J. WILBUR CHAPMAN

A MIRACLE OF GRACE. Illustrated, 12mo, cloth.....Net, $1.25
The Water Street Mission has been permitted a wonderful record of saving grace. From every side comes request for the story of the life of Hadley. None knew this man and his work, his struggles and his victories, better than Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman.

The Silver Maple Author of "Duncan Polite" MARIAN KEITH

A STORY OF YOUNG CANADA. 12mo, cloth.....$1.50
Especially in the older portion of Ontario is there rich material for the novelist, for the truth could be but a revelation of romance of purity and probity. Miss Keith has a forceful, interesting style that binds the reader from first to last.

Alexander McBain, B.A. A Prince in Penury ADELINE TESKEY

By the author of "THE VILLAGE ARTIST." 12mo, cloth.....$1.25
The author has dared to picture the actual steps in the downfall of a cultured young man with an inherited tendency toward inebriety. Miss Teskey is a brilliant and sympathetic writer, and has given her powers full play in this story.

Squeaks and Squawks from Far-Away Forests

By BURTON STONER

Illustrated by CHARLES LIVINGSTON BULL. 4to, boards, illustrated, $1.00

A new book by this writer of unusual animal stories. His "Jim Crow Tales," published last year, met with instant success, but his new book is by far the best thing he has yet done. He takes you deep into the forest and acquaints you with the wild creatures. Charles Livingston Bull illustrates the stories with twenty drawings, six of which are in colors.

The Pig Book

Boards, 32 pages, illustrated, 75c.

A welcome novelty for the host and hostess. Pig Parties are everywhere, and no fun is quite equal to that of drawing blind pigs in this unique "Pig Book." Made of sensitized paper which does away with pen and pencil. First edition exhausted ten days after publication.

Candle Light

By GEORGIA ROBERTS DURSTON

Illustrated by KATHARINE H. GREENLAND. 4to, boards, $1.25

Child verses remarkable for their originality, simplicity and beauty have been illustrated by the inimitable drawings of Miss Greenland. Printed in colors, on but one side of the leaf.

Danny

By JEAN K. BAIRD

Illustrated by T. VICTOR HALL. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, 60c.

An exquisite bit of word painting and character sketching, being the account of the redemption of Danny, who was so lazy he once declared: "I never was no hand fer talkin'. I don't see no use."

The Woodland Elf

By FLORENCE A. EVANS

Illustrated by CARLL B. WILLIAMS. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, 60c.

Wonder stories of nature, explaining why cat-tails grow, why the rabbit has a white tail, how the morning-glory came to be, etc., and the author has woven a pretty fancy about each one.

Cash Three

By JEAN K. BAIRD

Illustrated by A. B. SHUTE. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, 60c.

A pathetic Christmas story of the struggle a little cash boy in a great department store and his father made against poverty.

The Fairy Chaser

By MARY A. BYRNE

Illustrated by ANNA B. CRAIG. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, 60c.

The House of Defence

EDWARD F. BENSON'S STARTLING WORK

FIFTH OF THE FAMOUS $150,000 SERIES

While the "House of Defence" has a strikingly interesting and original plot, its chief novelty consists in the double fact that it upholds in brilliantly skilful fashion the doctrine of Christian Science; and that the author who thus upholds the creed of Faith is the third son of the Archbishop of Canterbury. The startling effect of this daring radicalism on Church of England society may be readily imagined.

The Earl of Thurso, married to a beautiful girl and who recently succeeded to the title and estates of his millionaire uncle, is the central figure of one of the grimmest, most astounding scandals in the annals of the London smart set.

Lord Thurso went to his Scottish estates to help his tenants during a typhoid fever epidemic. The nervous strain brought on a series of severe headaches, and to relieve these he had recourse to laudanum, which the local medico thoughtlessly prescribed. The effect was peculiarly soothing and exhilarating on his system, and in a very few weeks the opium habit had taken a firm hold upon him.

This was, for the time, hushed up by his family, and he returned to England. But before long his eccentricities became so noticeable as to arouse wonder.

For instance, at a house-party given by Lady Thurso at Bray-on-Thames, the Earl went on a secret opium spree, under whose effects he nearly murdered one of his wife's guests. Again, in order to procure opium he posed as a physician and narrowly escaped arrest and penal servitude. As a last resort his sister prevails upon him to go to New York to try a new cure, and with surprising results. The entire work shows the audacity of the versatile and brilliant author.

"Unlike anything that has yet appeared in fiction."

MOLIERE, A BIOGRAPHY. By H. C. CHATFIELD-TAYLOR, author of "The Crimson Wing," "The Vice of Fools," etc. Introduction by Prof. T. F. Crane, of Cornell University. Illustrated by "Job" (Comte de Bréville). A life of the great French dramatist by an American man of letters who has devoted years to the study of his subject. No pains have been spared to make the work the most authoritative yet published in English. $3.00 net.

REMINISCENCES OF MY CHILDHOOD AND YOUTH. By GEORGE BRANDES. Translated by G. M. Fox-Davies. A delightful book of recollections by one of the greatest living critics, whose life has been full of varied interest. The intrinsic charm of the book is as great as its literary and critical importance, which is of the first order. $2.50 net.

BRIDGE ABRIDGED. By ANNIE BLANCHE SHELBY, author of "Standard Whist." A comprehensible and precise statement of the maxims, rules and principles governing the game of Bridge, to which are added the revised laws of Bridge as adopted by the New York Whist Club, and the etiquette of the game. 172 pages, $1.00.

THE WORLD'S PAINTERS SINCE LEONARDO. By JAMES W. PATTISON. The only book in print that gives an account, full, yet compact, of every painter and his principal works since Leonardo da Vinci. A labor saving volume that can be heartily recommended to students, art lovers and art clubs of every description. Illustrated with more than 80 half-tone reproductions. $4.00 net.

WONDERFUL BIBLE

The Holman Linear Bible has the King James Version in verses as a basis for comparison, and is printed in one wide single column from large, clear, open type, and is the only Bible of the kind that is easy to read.

The original scheme included an arrangement in double columns, and the first pages were so made. The proofs showed conclusively that this plan would not do; it gave such a crowded, confusing page that it was hard to read. So it was abandoned in favor of the which gives a legible, clear, open page.

American Jewish year book, 5667, September 20, 1906, to September 8, 1907; ed. by Henrietta Szold. [Also] Report of the eighteenth year of the Jewish Publication Society of America, 1905-1906. Phil., Jewish Publication Society of America, 1906. c. 9+275+27 p. D. cl., 75 c.

Andrews, Mrs. Mary Raymond Shipman, [Mrs. W: Shankland Andrews.] A good Samaritan; il. by Charlotte Harding. N. Y., McClure, Phillips & Co., 1906. c. 2+51 p. S. †50 c.

A short story that appeared about a year ago in McClure's Magazine. It tells how a young graduate from a theological seminary, on his way to keep an important engagement on which his future hangs, meets an old college friend in an intoxicated condition—how he is forced to play the Good Samaritan and to steer his friend homeward through many adventures in the city streets—how he incurs thereby disgrace in the eyes of the girl he loves, with other episodes.

Bearne, Rev. D: Charlie Chittywick. N. Y., Benziger Bros., 1906. c. 4+205 p. sq. D. cl., 85 c.

Charlie Chittywick is the hero of a boy's story, with its setting in an English country town forty years ago. Charlie as a small boy gets the reputation of being both a thief and a liar. He is the victim, however, of a bad father, who almost starves him; and when the opportunity offers for Charlie to do honest work he does it courageously and stops stealing. He has many trials in his life but finds good friends. The characters are chiefly Catholics, and a boy of Protestant parentage is converted to Catholicism.

Buchanan, A. H., M.D. Manual of anatomy systematic and practical, including embryology. In 2 v. v. 1, Osteology. Chic., W. T. Keener & Co., 1906. 16+596 p. il. 8°, cl., *$2.75 net.

Coryell, J: Russell, ["Nick Carter," pseud.] Out of death's shadow; or, a case without a precedent. N. Y., Street & Smith, [1906.] c. '05. 3-209 p. D. (Magnet lib.) pap., 10 c.

Dean, Rev. J: Marvin. The promotion: a story of the Philippine war. Phil., Griffith & Rowland Press, 1906. [S.] c. 5+207 p. il. D. cl., 75 c.

From his own experiences as a missionary in the Philippines, the author has written this story dealing to some extent with our military operations there and also touching on our missionary work in the islands.

Dole, C: Fletcher. The spirit of democracy. N. Y., Thomas Y. Crowell & Co., [1906.] c. 8+435 p. D. cl., $1.25 net.

Consideration of some of the problems of democratic government, which the author considers is still on trial before the world. Various aspects of popular government, especially that of our own country, are discussed under such subjects as: What is government? Suffrage; The treatment of crime;

Pauperism; Imperialism; Labor unions; The party systems; The problem of war; Anarchy and socialism, etc. Mr. Dole, who has also written "The coming people," "The relation of a gentleman," etc., thinks that while the problems to be faced were never more difficult than they are to-day, neither has there ever been so much reason to hope for success in solving them.

Fitzhugh, Percy Keese. The story of General Anthony Wayne (Mad Anthony), the hero of Stony Point; il. by Noble Ives. N. Y., McLoughlin Bros., [1906.] c. 94 p. col. front. il. D. (Young folks' colonial lib.) cl., 40 c.

A biography of one of the heroes of the Revolutionary War; written especially for young people.

Frederick, J. G: Breezy; il. by W. D. Stevens. N. Y., McClure, Phillips & Co., 1906. c. 4+37 p. S. cl., †50 c.

First appeared in McClure's Magazine. The story of a boy who attended strictly to business. Obtaining a position as a clerk in a big grocer's store he makes a hit at the counter to which he is assigned by his signs calling attention to the special bargains of the day. This and other enterprising acts, raise him so high in the estimation of the firm that he becomes manager of the store.

Kirk, Mrs. Florence, [Florence Hewitt.] Old English games and physical exercises. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1906. 8+51 p. O. bds., 50 c.

Intended for the use of children in the elementary schools. The tunes are exactly as children sing them, with the addition of simple accompaniments. Includes games with or without music, physical exercises to nursery rhyme accompaniments, and breathing exercises. Each game includes words and music (if required), and full directions.

Lathrop, Elise. Where Shakespeare set his stage; accorations by C. W. Hood. N. Y., Ja. Pott & Co., [1906. S.] c. 10+247 p. il. O. cl., $2 net; ¾ levant, $4 net.

Twelve of Shakespeare's plays have been selected for the subjects of as many chapters and for illustration, namely: Julius Caesar, Anthony and Cleopatra, Romeo and Juliet, The taming of the shrew, The merchant of Venice, Othello, Macbeth, Hamlet, A midsummer night's dream, The merry wives of Windsor, Richard III, and Henry VIII. The author has been at great pains to trace the exact localities of the scenes of the plays, the period at which the action of the drama might have taken place, etc. Also describes the personal appearance and general characteristics of the chief personages as mentioned by their friends or by history. The localities in widely scattered countries in which Shakespeare set his stage have been illustrated with great care in selection of pictures.

Madison, Janet, comp. Sweethearts always: poems of love; selected by Janet Madison; il. by H. Putnam Hall. Chic., Reilly & Britton Co., 1906. c. 232 p. O. vellum cl., $2; ed. de luxe, mor., boxed, $4.

A collection of the best love poems. The limitation imposed in this little collection is that all the poems must sing of constancy in love. Each poem is enclosed in a heart-shaped wreath of forget-me-nots printed in two colors. At the foot of each page is an appropriate motto or ring posy such as was in olden times engraved in engagement or wedding rings.

Matheson, G.; D.D. Rests by the river: devotional meditations. N. Y., A. C. Armstrong & Son, 1906. 16+367 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Author, formerly minister of the parish of St. Bernard's, Edinburgh. These meditations appeared originally in the pages of Saint Andrew, an organ of the Church of Scotland. They are intended for devotional moments and are divided into two parts, the first containing a thought, and the second either an invocation or a prayer. There are two readings per week for one year and each reading may be scanned in two or three minutes.

Nansen, Fridtjof, ed. The Norwegian North Polar expedition, 1893-1896: scientific results. v. 5. Published by the Fridtjof Nansen Fund for the Advancement of Science. N. Y., for sale by Longmans, Green & Co., 1906. 4+152 p. il. pls. map, Q. cl., $8.

Volumes 1 to 4 and vol. 6 of these "Scientific results" of the expedition taken in the "Fram" have appeared at intervals since April, 1900. The volume under notice contains the investigations of specialists relating to three North Polar phenomena, viz., Section 14, The bottom deposits of the North Polar Sea, by O. B. Boggild, with an appendix by O. N. Heidenreich and C. J. J. Fox on Analyses of the bottom deposits, and another, by Hans Klaer, on Thalamophora of the bottom deposits and the mud from the ice surface; Section 15, On dead-water, by V. Walfrid Ekman; and Section 16, Protozoa on the ice-floes of the North Polar Sea, by F. Nansen. There are many valuable maps, full-page plates and tables.

Noble, W. Arthur. Ewa: a tale of Korea. N. Y., Eaton & Mains, [1906.] c. 6-354 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

The story is told by a young Korean, the aim being to present Korean affairs from the standpoint of the Korean. The hero at eighteen is told he must marry, and a bride four years his senior and by no means attractive is chosen for him. He runs away from home, meets Ewa, a pretty slave girl, whom he loves, and becomes a slave himself for her sake. On this slight plot are hung many discussions of the life, customs, government, religion and superstitions of the Korean. The lovers in the end become Christians.

Palmer, W. Scott. An agnostic's progress. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1906. 3+169 p. D. cl., $1.20 net.

Retrospective journal, describing the gradual development of an eager, inquiring mind during the second half of the last century from conventional religion, merely professed religion, to agnosticism and then, step by step, by means of scientific research, psychological investigation and philosophy to a scientific Christianity, which is to him a realization of the theory of evolution. In relating the various phases of this progress the author touches on the philosophical, psychological and physical questions of the day and their exponents, his starting point having been Darwin's "Origin of species."

Priestman, Howard. Principles of worsted spinning. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1906. 8+321 p. diagrs., O. cl., $2.50.

Technical treatment of the theory and practice of this branch of textile manufacture by the author of "Principles of wool-combing."

Reed, Myrtle. A spinner in the sun. N. Y., Putnam, 1906. c. 6+393 p. D. cl., boxed, $1.50 net.

Interest centres in the mystery of the veiled lady, who returns to her desolate home after twenty-five years' absence, a stricken, solitary creature, shunning notice, waiting only for death. But the kindly ministrations of her fellow-kind, involuntary contact with the joys and woes of others, and, above all, the example and counsel of a wanderer, whose aim in life is to lighten and sweeten others' burdens, revive her interest in life. By degrees the secret of her past is disclosed, and with forgiveness for others comes a new outlook on life for herself. There is a pretty love story introduced and also the humorous portrayal of a big-hearted old maid whose prayer is "Oh Lord, keep me from the contamination of marriage." By the author of "At the sign of the Jack-o-lantern," "Lavender and old lace," etc.

Standish, Burt L. Frank Merriwell on top; or, a narrow escape. N. Y., Street & Smith, 1906. c. '00. 3-249 p. D. (Eagle ser. of popular fiction.) pap., 10 c.

Tappan, Eva March. American hero stories, [1492-1865.] Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1906. c. 5+264 p. il. por. sq. D. cl., †$1.

Contains five accounts of voyages and explorers, ranging from Columbus to Lewis and Clark; stories of five colonies of marked dissimilarity—Virginia, Quebec, Plymouth, New York and Philadelphia; brief lives of four pioneers of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries; and fifteen short stories of war times. The chapters are arranged in chronological order, with a thread of continuity running through them.

Tomlinson, Everett Titsworth. The self-effacement of Malachi Joseph. Phil., Griffith & Rowland Press, 1906. [S.] c. 235 p. il. D. cl., *$1 net.

A young graduate from one of our theological seminaries is advised by one of his professors to settle in a small town in northern New York and make a field for himself. This he does, and his trials and testings and triumphs are embodied in this story.

Walker, Williston. John Calvin, the organizer of reformed Protestantism, 1509-1564. N. Y., Putnam, 1906. c. 18+456 p. il. por. D. (Heroes of the Reformation; ed. by S. Macauley Jackson.) cl., $1.35 net.

Author is Titus Stout Professor of Ecclesiastical History in Yale University. This biography lays "special weight on Calvin's training, spiritual development and constructive work rather than on the minutiae of his Genevan contests or the smaller details of his relations to the spread of the Reformation in the various countries to which his influence extended." The questions of his conversion and his relations to Servetus are also clearly brought out.

Walpole, G. H. Somerset, D.D. The mission of the Holy Ghost. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1906. 5+103 p. D. cl., *60 c. net.

Four lectures delivered to the members of the St. Paul's Lecture Society during the autumn of 1905 by the rector of Lambeth (London), formerly professor in the Theological Seminary, New York. Separate subjects are: Mission of the Holy Ghost; The Holy Spirit and nature; The Holy Spirit and man; The Holy Spirit and the church.

Ward, Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, [Mrs. Herbert D. Ward.] The man in the case; il. by H: J. Peck. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1906. [S.] c. 4+267 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Joan Dare, an attractive New England woman, nearing middle life, has just promised to marry Douglas Ray, an architect, and the future seems to both most hopeful, when a mystery all at once darkens Joan's life. What it is that apparently is breaking her heart she refuses to tell even to her betrothed; she discharges her faithful maid, Mary Caroline, and shuts herself up in her lonely house, her dog her only companion. She soon becomes a subject for gossip, her friends and neighbors carefully avoiding her. The explanation of the mystery, which comes about in a dramatic way, is a touching story of a woman's self-sacrifice.

Wells, Carolyn. At the sign of the Sphinx: [charades.] 2d ser. N. Y., Duffield & Co., 1906. c. 6+128 p. nar. S. cl., $1.

A second series of rhymed riddles—120 in all—with answers.

White, Eliza Orne. A borrowed sister; with il. by Katharine Pyle. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1906. [S.] c. 5+150 p. D. cl., $1.

Lois Page, the little heroine of "An only child," is made happy by a long visit from Jessie Matthews while the latter's parents are in Europe. They have many good times together, planting garden, attending the "Darning-class," playing with their kittens, taking summer excursions, etc., and finally they have a Christmas tree.

Wilde, Oscar. The Duchess of Padua. [Also] Salome. N. Y., F. M. Buckles & Co., 1906. c. 120+4-60 p. D. cl., $1 net.

"The Duchess of Padua," discovered after the author's death, is a drama of the Middle Ages in Italy. "Salome" was written in French for Sarah Bernhardt in 1893. The English version is here given.

Woods, F. H. For faith and science. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1906. 14+207 p. D. cl., $1.20 net.

By a clergyman of the Church of England, rector of Bainton. In the preface he says: this book "is written for believers who are beginning to fear that the researches of science may compel them as honest men to give up their most cherished convictions. It is written by one who has a profound respect for the great apostles of science, . . . and who believes that . . . science inasmuch as it has been working on the side of truth is therefore on the side of God." The discussion has been arranged under three headings, i.e., What do I believe? Why do I believe? What influence is science exercising on the Christian faith? And the author's conclusion is "that, in spite of appearances to the contrary, religion on the whole owes a great debt of gratitude to science."

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

SEPTEMBER 29, 1906.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE FALL OUTLOOK.

FOR the past five years, in reviewing the prospects for the fall and winter trade, we have been encouraged to take a hopeful view of the outlook—a view that, at the conclusion of each such season, was realized and more than justified. This year again every indication points to an exceptionally rich fall and holiday trade in books. The record of the retail trade for the first half of the year, judged by reports that come from all over the country is most gratifying. The publishing trade, very likely because it was hampered by the printers' strike during the early part of the year, was not quite so active in putting out new books as in the early part of former years; though the fact that during the past six months there was a larger number of successful books than ever, that called for frequent reprintings, may also account for some of the delay in bringing out new books, as it certainly accounts for the unusual activity of the retail trade.

But the deluge is fairly upon us, and all concerned in handling books must be prepared for strenuous times from now until the end of the year. Conditions for retail buying are encouraging everywhere, and the careful bookseller will do well to look ahead and be prepared for his share of the harvest. The publisher undoubtedly has sounded the depths, encouraged by advance orders, and has made preparations for a fairly Gargantuan appetite for books. As evidence of this we point to the list of announcements and to the advertising pages in this issue, which have taxed the strength of the editorial corps and the resources of the printing office as never before. The number of the forthcoming new books and new editions runs into the thousands, and threatens almost to paralyze the judgment of even the most expert buyer in making a representative selection for his stock.

Some timid ones are apt to complain that the best judgment known cannot always get the better of the element of chance that rules whether a book or a drama will please the public or leave it cold; but the bookseller, in a great measure, can best reduce the element of chance by really knowing his public. Local booksellers in small towns have a great advantage in this direction. By a little adroit advertising and good taste in window display they can make their carefully-selected stock come within reach of the right people.

To the average reader a book means a novel, and novels are coming out in the usual great abundance. All the well-known novelists are represented and many new names arouse curiosity. Some excellent stories on the problems of labor and socialism, and several stories dealing with the many religious creeds of the moment and the life led by those above want and satiated with amusement are told by both the known and the unknown writers.

Biography and history are specially rich in promise to those who appreciate this most satisfactory of all the departments of literature. The time and the persons described and studied include from the earliest biblical characters to the men of the passing hour, and the works expected are written by men and women well qualified to deal with their special subjects.

Most important new books in the fields of travel and description, art and music, nature and out-door books, and in science and technical books, may be found among the announcements.

The department of Theology and Religion is better filled than for some years, and the books show that however bold and brave we have become in doubting, denying, asserting or inventing in this field, there remains something ever in humanity that longs to worship and that some of the most learned scholars and idealists are appealing to in books of enduring value.

As ever, the old "books that are books" year by year are put on the market in more and more attractive shape, and almost any bookseller can make a sale, for these little models of size and shape and binding that appeal at once by outward and visible form even to those not quite able to appreciate fully their inward and spiritual grace.

INTERNATIONAL FIGHT AGAINST UNDERSELLING.

THE following abstracts, showing what the booktrade in different countries is doing to prevent underselling, have been prepared by Edward Bell, President of the English Publishers' Association, and are printed in the London Publishers' Circular for September 15. We omit Mr. Bell's resumé of the rules of the American Publishers' Associations (1) because they are already well known to the American booktrade, and (2) because the information given by Mr. Bell does not quite agree with the facts:

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.

The Austro-Hungarian Booksellers' Union is affiliated to the Börsenverein of Leipzig, and maintains the same principles. There are special regulations adopted by the societies of Hungary and Bohemia, and the latter apply to the sale of Czech literature in Austria.

Any offer of discount to the public by marked price or otherwise, through circulars or in shop windows, and the offer of other advantages such as would be equivalent to discount, is prohibited.

Exceptions.—When a purchase amounts to not less than 20 krone (16s. 8d.), and at the express demand of the purchaser, a discount of 5 per cent. may be given, but only if the amount is paid in cash at one time, or in the course of a year by terms or instalments of which the totals represent the full price of the books bought. In this case the discount is only deducted when the account is balanced.

Official bodies, public libraries and institutions are allowed (but only on demand) 5 per cent. on amounts of less than 100 krone (£4 3s. 4d.), and 10 per cent. on 100 krone or more. There is no discount on periodicals that appear more than once a year.

These arrangements do not apply to "second-hand" business. Nevertheless, when books coming in this class are advertised at a reduced price the bookseller should indicate the fact that the copies in question are second-hand, soiled, remainders, or old editions. Any kind of announcement suggesting that the dealer sells new books on other than the authorized terms is prohibited.

Penalties.—On a slight offence the delinquent is made to sign a special undertaking; in more serious cases he has at the same time to deposit a sum as caution money, which is forfeited on further offence. If these measures fail the bookseller is deprived of the privileges of the Austro-Hungarian Society, and the fact is then communicated to the Börsenverein of Leipzig in order that the German booktrade may also take the necessary steps with regard to the offender.

HUNGARY.

The Society of Hungarian Booksellers allows a discount of 10 per cent. on any purchase, but expressly forbids any offer of discount in any form.

Penalty.—A fine of which the maximum is 600 krone (£25), and in case of obduracy or repetition the cessation of all relations with the publishing trade. (New regulations almost identical with those of the Austrian trade will soon be in force.)

BOHEMIA.

Any offer of discount is prohibited. Under certain conditions, and on demand, a discount of 5 per cent. is allowed on purchases of not less than 20 krone (16s. 8d.). Officials, public libraries, and institutions may (on demand), if the amount of their purchase (for their own use) is less than 100 krone, receive a discount of 5 per cent., and of 10 per cent. on 100 krone and upwards. School shops receive a discount of 10 per cent., but in general neither school books nor periodicals have any discount.

BELGIUM.

There are no rules as to the sale of books, though the Booksellers' Association (Cercle de la Librairie) has the matter under consideration.

DENMARK.

The published price is maintained with the following exceptions: A discount of 6 per cent. is allowed on annual accounts of not less than 200 krone (about £11) if promptly paid and if the customer insists on a discount. A discount of 10 per cent. is allowed on an account of not less than 1000 krone in the year. Public libraries generally receive a discount of 25 per cent. These rules apply to all three Scandinavian kingdoms.

Members of the Booktrade Association are pledged to give trade terms only to the Danish booksellers authorized by the association. The authorization is granted only on a written undertaking as follows:

1. To observe the regulations made as to net prices.
2. To accept, in disputed cases, the decision of a mixed committee.
3. To deposit a guarantee if required.

Penalty.—The committee of arbitration is formed from the Booktrade Association, the Booksellers' Society of Copenhagen, and the provincial societies. This committee can impose fines up to 200 krone (£11), and in aggravated cases remove the delinquent from the list of booksellers entitled to trade terms. A bookseller who does not pay a fine within four weeks is summarily removed from the list.

There are special regulations in all the Scandinavian countries for the sale of English, French and German books.

FRANCE.

The authorized terms are fixed by what is called a "tariff minimum," mutually agreed upon by the two associations of booksellers and publishers, which determines the discount allowable on books of all classes except educational.

This tariff is not based on the published price, but on a mean between the full price and the ordinary discounted prices, which amounts to a discount of from 5 per cent. to 11 per cent.

Educational books and elementary school books must not be advertised, marked or catalogued below the published price.

Most publishers when they open an account with a new customer require a written undertaking to maintain the tariff.

Penalty.—In cases of infringement on the part of a bookseller, whether he belongs to the booksellers' association or not, the publishers' association and its provincial branches make friendly remonstrances, which have hitherto nearly always been successful. In case of continued opposition all the members of the association close their accounts with the delinquent and refuse to allow him trade terms even for cash.

No thorough measures have yet been taken for the establishment of net prices. The above regulations aim rather at retarding the further degradation of prices and preparing the way for the net system.

GERMAN EMPIRE.

No discount is given on magazines, on educational books in small numbers, nor on any purchase whatever of less value than ten marks, whether for cash or to account.

In the kingdom of Saxony every book of less value than three marks is sold without discount. At Leipzig, purchases of less than three marks are not subject to discount. Under the rules of the Society of Bavarian Booksellers no discount is allowed in any case.

A cash discount of 2 per cent. is allowed on half-yearly accounts for purchases not specified above. In Brandenburg, Berlin and Leipzig this discount is sometimes 5 per cent. Official bodies, public libraries and institutions are allowed a discount of 5 per cent., except on purchases specified above.

Certain special conditions may be agreed upon between local booksellers' societies and the committee of the Börsenverein. Purchases by public authorities of any kind or price are subject to a discount of 5 per cent.

All conditions established by local societies must be observed by members of other societies dealing with the localities.

Penalties.—Booksellers who infringe the rules of their respective societies (which must have been previously approved by the committee of the Börsenverein) are first warned, then are liable to have their accounts closed, and finally are excluded from their society.

HOLLAND.

There is no accepted rule, but the Publishers' Association attempts to maintain the published price for two years at least, by refusing to deal with booksellers who offer discount publicly.

Exception.—Ten per cent. is generally given to professors, and to institutions dealing with educational books. Public institutions generally invite tenders for the supply of books.

ITALY.

The following is the substance of rules that have been adopted by the Associazione Tipografico-Libraria Italiana:

1. Any offer of discount (except under rules 4 and 5) is prohibited.

2. A discount, which must not exceed 15 per cent., may be allowed on educational books to schools, colleges, municipalities, officials, associations, scholastic bodies and teachers in general.

3. If a private customer asks for discount it must not exceed 10 per cent.

4. Publications which have been reduced in price and are not in regular sale (i.e., old stock) are not limited to the above discounts.

(The Italian booksellers' journal publishes from time to time lists of the books the price of which has been reduced by the publishers. When a publisher does this he is bound to take back unsold copies in exchange for other publications. This does not apply to school books.)

5. Publishers of educational and scientific journals may offer their subscribers a discount of 15 per cent. on their own publications—carriage free.

6. Retailers who are recognized by the association receive the usual trade terms from publishers; those who are not recognized receive only the same terms as private buyers. Publishers may give their registered agents better terms as they please.

(Publishers and booksellers mutually agree to consider as booksellers and retailers only those members of the associations who are actually engaged in the retail trade, or persons to whom the committee of the association has given a certificate as such.)

7. Benevolent societies and institutions that sell books under any form are regarded as booksellers.

8. All disputes between booksellers and publishers must be submitted to the committee of the association.

9. Offenders against the rules as to discount are liable to have their names posted in the journal.

NORWAY.

Prices are strictly maintained under severe rules. No publisher may reduce the price of his publications within five years without the special authority of the committee of the Booksellers' Association.

No bookseller may give any discount on Scandinavian books.

Exceptions.—Libraries have a special discount of 8-13 per cent.; teachers, drapers and mercantile companies may receive, in districts where there is no bookseller, a trade allowance of 10 per cent.

Penalty.—Delinquents are punishable by fine of from 10 to 100 krone (krone equal to 13d.), and in case of repetition by exclusion from the society.

There are special rules for English, French and German books, which are sold at fixed prices throughout Norway.

RUSSIA.

There are no regulations, and continual disputes. In Finland, however, some regulations have just been adopted by publishers and booksellers which prohibit any allowance to private buyers, but allow a discount of 10 per cent. to primary schools and schoolmasters.

The discounts are also given more freely in districts where there are no booksellers.

SPAIN.

There are no general rules, but the publishers can apparently compel the booksellers to maintain the prices by threatening to close their accounts. There are two prices prevalent—one for Madrid, and the other, somewhat higher, for the provinces.

SWEDEN.

There are no general rules; the published price is fairly well maintained; schools and libraries often receive from 5 per cent. to 10 per cent. discount. There is an agreement between the "New Society of Publishers" and the booksellers, by which a discount on books of secondary education is prohibited unless the account amounts to 50 krone (about £2 14s.), or unless fifty copies of one book are bought at the same time. In this case the discount is 10 per cent. On other publications no more than 10 per cent. may be given during the first year. There is no penalty.

SWITZERLAND (GERMAN).

The Society of (German) Swiss Booksellers forms part of the Börsenverein at Leipzig.

Offers of discount are strictly prohibited; there is a special tariff for books from certain other countries. No discount is allowed on periodicals appearing monthly or oftener.

The augmentation of prices determined by the tariff of 1874 may be deducted at once on purchases amounting to 100 francs, and on every bill of 100 francs and more which includes purchases within one year. In addition, a discount of 4 per cent. is allowed to a customer whose purchases amount to 600 francs in the year.

Professors of universities and technical schools, students (when they pay cash), and public libraries may receive discount of not more than 5 per cent. This applies only to German or German-Swiss books.

Penalty.—Warning, and closing of accounts. On repetition, exclusion from the society, subject to an appeal to a general meeting within eight weeks.

SWITZERLAND (FRENCH, ETC.).

In the French-speaking parts of Switzerland nearly all the booksellers and publishers belong to their respective societies or to the Börsenverein of Leipzig, and the sale of books is regulated by rules almost identical with the above.

FICTION IN DEMAND IN ENGLAND.

ACCORDING to the London Book Monthly, the following books have been most in demand in London during August:

The Treasure of Heaven. Marie Corelli.
The Dream and the Business. John Oliver Hobbes.
A Sovereign Remedy. Flora Annie Steel.
The Guarded Flame. M. B. Maxwell.
A Woman's Victory. Maarten Maartens.
The Wickhamses. W. Pett Ridge.

PUBLISHERS IN DEFENSE OF SIMPLIFIED SPELLING.

MR. HENRY HOLT, the senior member of the firm of Henry Holt & Co., and Dr. I. K. Funk, president of the Funk & Wagnalls Company, contributed to the New York Times Saturday Review of Books for September 22 communications in defense of simplified spelling, both deprecating Mr. Brett's fear that the general adoption of the new spelling would affect the sale of books intended for export trade.

Mr. Holt, while thoroughly in sympathy with the movement in general, and though as a matter of fact he has adopted some of the new forms of spelling in one of his text books and in the Educational Review, is not prepared to print anything with changes that people are not ready for. For this reason he thinks "that Mr. Brett and those who share his misgivings may rest assured that there is no influence at work in the Simplified Spelling Board to change the spelling of printed books fast enough to hurt their market anywhere."

"But the authorities of England and America and the vast majority of the educational world of America are agreed that a gradual change is desirable; there are 85,000,000 people in America and only 35,000,000 on the British Isles; moreover, there is a suspicion about that, take the American people through and through, the amount of their correct spelling, even by the old standards, has been proportionally somewhat larger than that of the British people. It looks, then, as if the decision of how the language is to be spelled were apt, and not unreasonably, to rest with America."

Dr. Funk cites as instances, to prove that the English people are not altogether averse to the proposed innovation, the large sales in England of Webster's Standard and Century dictionaries, notwithstanding the fact that these works have adopted some of the forms of spelling recommended by the Simplified Spelling Board, and claim that "the simplified forms of spelling are nearly all backed by classic English authors," continuing: "We have borrowed these forms from classic England. Would England stop us going back to 'purest wells of English undefiled?' These 300 spellings urged by President Roosevelt were in reality selected—nearly all—by Dr. Henry Sweet, of Oxford University, editor of 'Old English Texts.' And the chiefest philologists of England, Dr. Murray and Dr. Bradley, editors of the great Oxford Dictionary; Professor Wright, editor of the 'English Dialect Dictionary,' and Dr. Skeat, the eminent English etymologist, are members of the Simplified Spelling Board."

In conclusion Dr. Funk says: "Even though it did cost the American publishers some sacrifice to help bring about a reform that means so much to the coming generations, which one of us would not cheerfully bear the loss, remembering that it is true in business as in the life of the individual, 'Whosoever will save his life shall lose it.' Selfishness in the long run is short-sighted, and defeats itself. The universe is constructed that way."

FICTION IN DEMAND IN AUGUST.

ACCORDING TO The Bookman the six novels which sold best during the month of August in the order of demand are the following:

POINTS.
1. Coniston. Churchill. Macmillan.....	334
2. Awakening of Helena Richie. Deland. Harpers.....	228
3. The Jungle. Sinclair. Doubleday, Page & Co.....	109

5. Lady Baltimore. Wister. Macmillan.	87
6. The Fighting Chance. Chambers. Appleton.....	81

A TOWN IN THE PUBLISHING BUSINESS.

THE town of Bordeaux, being justly proud of the fact that Montaigne was once mayor of the town, says the London Academy, is publishing a definite edition of the essays. Owing to the author's corrections and additions the text of the essays varies considerably, but the new edition—which is under the care of M. Strowski, professor in the University of Bordeaux—will contain the complete text with notes on the variations. One of the older editions of that book "altogether without guile" contains in the preface a eulogy, by the "incomparable Thuanus," in which it is said that "while Montaigne was at Venice he was elected mayor of Bordeaux, which place was bestowed only upon persons of the first quality, and even the governors of the province thought it was an honor for them."

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF NEWS-DEALERS, ETC.

At the twenty-fourth annual convention of the National Association of Newsdealers, Booksellers and Stationers, held at the Palmer House in Chicago last month, the following officers were elected to serve for one year:

S. Stratton, Paterson, N. J., president.
W. H. Kessler, Wilkesbarre, Pa. first vice-president.
A. D. Mynders, Albany, N. Y., second vice-president.
A. Hillman-Russin, New York, N. Y., secretary.
Joseph Ettenberger, Newark, N. J., treasurer.
W. T. Suttle, Jr., Paterson, N. J., custodian.
Executive Committee—M. Libien, New York, N. Y.; J. Rumler, Paterson, N. J.; F. Seyfarth, Brooklyn, N. Y.; D. Brophy, New York, N. Y.

Among resolutions passed are the following:

Whereas, Funds are necessary to organize the newsdealers of the United States thoroughly, be it resolved that each and every association is hereby taxed 50 cents per capita, instead of 25 cents per capita, payable semi-annually on the 1st of January and July.

Whereas, The business of the National is growing to be so very important that not much work can be accomplished in our sessions lasting only two days, therefore be it resolved that the sessions of the Convention should last three days.

Whereas, The Executive Committee has the power to change the place of the Convention, be it resolved that the place the Convention chooses should remain and the Executive Committee should not have the power to change; they should only have the power in choosing a place when the Convention has not designated any.

Resolved, That this Convention recommends to the newsdealers of the United States and Canada to assist the publishers by a regular revision of their standing orders for magazines and other publications with a view of making their returns as small as possible.

Resolved, That the Convention recommends that the members of this Association refuse to buy cut or second-hand novels or conduct an exchange business in said novels.

Resolved, That this Association recommends that publishers be requested to abolish all fractional rates for their publications and to make a flat rate on same. Also that all publications be returned at full price, without any deduction of any character.

Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the National Association confer with publishers and news companies with a view of establishing a system whereby each dealer would know exactly what goods are to cost. We suggest that all magazines and periodicals be invoiced to retail at regular selling price, subject to a stated discount.

The Place Committee recommended that the selection of place for next convention be left to the Executive Committee. This was adopted.

B. & J. F. MEEHAN OF BATH.

"Book Auction Records" recently gave an interesting brief account of the bookselling firm of B. & J. F. Meehan, of Bath, Eng., in an article entitled "Go to Bath." The Meehan business was founded by Bartholomew Meehan, the father of the present proprietor, John Francis Meehan. Bartholomew Meehan was born within the sounds of the "Shandon Bells," in July, 1816. At the age of twenty-three he left Cork for Liverpool and engaged in the old book business. Leaving Liverpool he engaged for a time in the book business in Swansea, then flitting to Merthyr, Penzance, Plymouth and Portsmouth, finally settling in 1867 in Bath, being first located in York Street. His growing business obliged him to remove to 11 Pulteney Bridge, and in 1883 to still larger premises at 32 Gay Street. For a number of years the father carried on (concurrently with the business managed by his son in Bath) a book business in South Wales, first at Swansea, where he renewed his old acquaintances, and afterwards at Pentre, Rhondda. He died in Bath on November 10, 1902, in his seventy-sixth year, since which time his son, John Francis Meehan, has carried on the business as sole proprietor. J. F. Meehan, besides fulfilling the best traditions of his calling as a bookseller, is also winning laurels as a historian, having produced several works of standard value, notable among these being "The Famous Houses of Bath and District," now out of print, and "More Famous Houses of Bath and District." Among his recent publications is an account of "Hetting House," now known and used as the Abbey Church House in Westgate Buildings, Bath, which dates back to 1570, and has a most interesting history. Mr. Meehan is also a frequent contributor to magazines.

OBITUARY NOTES.

ALEXANDER BELFORD, the well-known publisher of books and magazines, senior of the late firm of Belford, Clark & Co., etc., died in Los Angeles early this month. He was a son-in-law of Andrew McNally of Rand, McNally & Co. of Chicago.

BLOODGOOD H. CUTTER, the so-called "Farmer Poet of Long Island," died September 26, at Great Neck, L. I., where he was born August 20, 1817. As the original of the "Poet Lariat" of Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad" the Farmer Poet was placed among the immortals long ago. His other claim to fame is the collection of verses he has written for many years, doggerel fired at any object in sight and read with amusement all over the country. As a sample of his poetical powers we quote the "ode" with which Mr. Cutter celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday:

Bloodgood Cutter is eighty-eight,
Obeying God and defying fate.
He lives in Great Neck town,
His age goes up and won't "go down."

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

THE cover of the new Putnam's Monthly was designed by Ingalls Kimball, of the once flourishing young firm of Stone & Kimball, publishers. The design is simple, chaste and effective.

The Circle, the new magazine announced by the Funk & Wagnalls Company, will begin its career probably near the first of December. According to the publishers' announcement, The Circle will be "a monthly picture of real life at home, at business, in the school, on the field of sport, in church, on the highways of travel, at the work bench, in the study, the laboratory, and the executive chamber, on the farm, in the forest, on the bounding wave. Wherever man goes throbbing with life and purpose this new Circle will draw its magic around him, joining in his enthusiasm, inspiring his ambition, helping his achievement, cheering his heart, bringing brightness into his eyes, a smile to his lips and a note of gladness and triumph ringing in his voice."

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY has ready for distribution its holiday catalogue for the season of 1906. The book is the most comprehensive work of the kind that the company has ever undertaken, and gives an exceptionally good idea of the enormous line of fine holiday goods carried. Wherever possible, dealers should, of course, visit the sample room and make their selections personally, but where this is not possible, the catalogue issued this year can be used to excellent advantage. The line of the American News Company this year includes the following goods, all of which are described in the catalogue, which will be sent to dealers on request: Brush and comb sets, shaving, manicure and military sets, post card, auto and photograph albums, scrap books, pocket books, gents' wallets, ladies' handbags, and all the latest novelties in leather, glass inkstands, paper weights, metal goods, clocks, candle holders, crumb trays, pocket flasks, poker sets, medallions and mounted pictures, toy books and games of endless variety, etc.

THOMAS L. BRADFORD, of Frankford, Pa., is at work on a list of State, town and local histories of the States and Territories of the United States, which will be edited by Stan V. Henkels, the well-known Philadelphia auctioneer, who will publish the work. It will be issued in about five volumes, and will contain some five thousand titles, together with the auction sale prices of these volumes for the last forty years, and many bibliographical notes. Such a work should prove of great value to the librarian, the historian, the collector and the dealer. The first volume will be ready about January 1, 1907. It may surprise many to learn that these local histories have been published in such numbers; but the last quarter century has been marked by a very large number of such publications. The centennial celebrations of many towns have brought about the publication of memorial town histories, and some of the earliest issues of these works have sold for very high prices. While the historian may care little for the values of the books in the auction market, this is a feature which must appeal to the librarian, the collector and others who are trying to make up series of these works.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ALBANY, N. Y.—George B. Frederick and J. K. Frederick, for upwards of twenty-five years with Banks & Company, of Albany, have established themselves in business under the firm name of Frederick Brothers, at 114 State St. They will make a specialty of new and second-hand law books.

CHEHALIS, WASH.—W. B. Charles, who recently purchased the Globe Bookstore, has moved to larger quarters, and put in a line of shoes.

CLEVELAND, O.—The Babbitt & Crummel Co., bookseilers, it is reported, have filed a petition in bankruptcy.

DECATUR, ILL.—J. H. Bevins, bookseller, has been succeeded by Vradenburg & Parkhurst.

FAYETTE, MO.—J. L. Whiteside, bookseller, has been succeeded by George N. Brown & Son.

FORT COLLINS, COL.—C. R. Secord, bookseller, has been succeeded by Secord & Wood.

GEORGETOWN, TEX.—W. T. Penn, bookseller, has sold out to Wilcox Bros.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.—F. A. Kiger & Co. has bought the book business formerly owned by Joseph R. Gallick.

JOHNSTOWN, PA.—George E. Lightcap, the book and stationery buyer for William F. Goble & Co., of Altoona, Pa., has resigned his position with that firm and will engage in the same business here in connection with H. A. Hershberger. The book, stationery, art goods and framing department will be under the supervision of Mr. Lightcap and will occupy one side of the building, while the other half of the room will be conducted by Mr. Hershberger with a complete and up-to-date line of jewelry, optical goods, cut glass, fine china, etc. The new firm of Lightcap & Hershberger will open up in their new home, No. 536 Main Street, on or about October 20.

MONTREAL, CANADA.—John Wiley & Sons, of New York, have appointed E. M. Renouff, Ltd., at Catherine and University Streets, their agents for the Dominion. The trade and all Canadian customers will in future be supplied through this agency, and they are requested to correspond direct with E. M. Renouff.

NEW YORK CITY.—We learn that the affairs of the Abbey Press are likely to be disposed of this fall. If the actions pending in the courts turn out favorably to the estate there ought to be a dividend of about ten per cent. for the creditors.

NEW YORK CITY.—The referee reports concerning the Consolidated Retail Booksellers that no dividend can be declared for some time to come. The dividend is likely to be very small unless the referee is successful in recovering on two rather doubtful litigations now being prosecuted.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Outdoor News Company has been incorporated at Albany, to print, publish and circulate daily, weekly and monthly magazines, newspapers, and illustrated matter, and to carry on the business of newspaper proprietors in the State of New York and other States of the Union and in foreign countries. The directors are: Julien A. Ripley, 4 West Twenty-second Street, New York; George R. Knapp, Asbury Park, N. J.; Paul Thompson, 312 West Twentieth Street, New York; and the incorporators are: Charles P. Howland, 13 West Eleventh Street, New York; William W. Lancaster, 126 East Twenty-eighth Street, New York, and Harold E. Field, 835 Green Avenue, Brooklyn.

PLATTEVILLE, WIS.—C. E. Gilmore, bookseller, has been succeeded by Gilmore & Smith.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—The John L. Boland Book and Stationery Co. has secured a building site in the new wholesale district of this city, fronting 100 feet on the north side of Locust Street by 155 feet on the west line of Sixteenth, running through to St. Charles Street. A modern seven-story, slow-combustion structure will be erected on the site.

TACOMA, WASH.—Theodore's Book Store Co. have changed their firm name to Theodore & Little.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

L. C. PAGE & COMPANY will publish on October 1 their last new novel of the year, George Carling's "Richard Elliott, Financier," which deals with the question of trust methods and high finance in business circles.

A. J. HOLMAN & Co. call attention to their new lines of Bibles, among which their "Black-Face" Text, Reference and Teachers' Bibles, their "Linear" Bible, and their "Vest Pocket Red Letter Testament" will be found specially useful and attractive.

JOHN LANE COMPANY have just brought out the "Memoirs of Count de Cartrie: being a Record of the Extraordinary Events in the Life of Ambroise Toussaint de Cartrie, Count of Villeniere, as written by himself," with an introduction by Frederic Masson. The memoirs throw some bright sidelights on the war in La Vendée. They announce "The Beloved Vagabond," a new story by William J. Locke, author of "The Morals of Marcus Ordeyne," which in its dramatized form was produced at the Garrick Theatre in London with marked success.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish at once "Dunny," a new story of Western life by Philip Verrill Mighels, along the lines of his "Bruvver Jim's Baby," the scene being set in a typical rough Western lumber camp, where the humorous side of life has been appreciatively set forth from first to last; Robert Hichens's new novel, "The Call of the Blood," already fully described by us; also, "Their First Call," by Grace MacGowan Cooke, the story of how two boys paid their first real "call" on the girls, fortified with "Helps and Hints to Young Men in Business and Social Relations," and their awkward applications of its principles, for which Peter Newell has made a number of characteristic funny pictures.

THE OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS have just brought out an entirely new edition of the "Oxford Teachers' Bible," with new Twentieth Century Helps arranged under one alphabet, including a concordance, subject index, glossary, chronologies, botany, etc. They have also just ready fine new editions of "Oxford Black-faced Type Bibles," of which their brevier sixteenmo has been described as "a quart in a pint measure." Among their gift books the additions to their Oxford Bijou edition will prove specially attractive. In a volume 2 x 1½ inches in size, printed on the Oxford India paper, may be had the "Four Gospels," in four volumes, the "Book of Psalms," in one volume; "Dickens's Christmas Books," with illustrations by Leech and others, in five volumes, and the "Ellen Terry Shakespeare," in forty volumes. The text, though printed in small type, is easily read. Their World's Classics series and The Boys' Classics are steadily growing in size and in favor.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY will publish early in October "On the Trail of the Immigrant," by Edward A. Steiner, who for the past twenty years has gone over the whole field himself, as an actual immigrant, living in huts in Poland and the Balkans, herding in European trains and in the steerage of ocean liners and working in Pennsylvania coal mines and in Wisconsin forests; "The Missionaries and their Critics," by Dr. J. L. Barton; also "Listening to God," a volume of sermons, by the Rev. Hugh Black, who is coming to New York from free St. George's in Edinburgh, to occupy the chair of Practical Theology in Union Seminary. They have in preparation a volume entitled "The Universality of Jesus," by the Rev. G. A. Johnston Ross, of the University Church at Cambridge, England, who made a deep impression upon the great Northfield audiences which he addressed this summer; also an elaborate work on "Ancient Jerusalem," by the Hon. Selah Merrill, our consul for many years at the Holy City.

E. P. DUTTON & COMPANY have just ready "The Trials of Commander McTurk," by C. J. Cutcliffe Hyne. McTurk is on the retired list of the U. S. Navy, and is there from having exceeded instructions by overzeal in the Philippines. The book records his trials in many enterprises of unusual character into which he enters in all parts of the world with the one object of so distinguishing himself as to win the notice of the naval department and gain a reappointment. Those who know Mr. Hyne's "Captain Kettle" will be prepared to find his successor sketched in the same graphic, lively and amusing manner—a type of the cool, tenacious and unconsciously humorous American. They will publish immediately "The Life of Sir Henry Vane the Younger, with a History of the Events of His Time," giving an account of his sojourn in New England and Governorship of Massachusetts, his return to England and his life under the Protectorate and Restoration, and his trial and execution. The work is by Dr. William W. Ireland, of Edinburgh. They also announce for early publication "The Voice of the South," a new book by Gilbert Watson, being his personal experiences of travel in Algeria and the desert.

THE FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have in preparation a religious historical novel by William Schuyler, entitled "Under Pontius Pilate," also, "Miserere," by Mabel Wagnalls, a fascinating story of music and its devotees. F. Berkeley Smith, who has brought out three successful books on Paris, has now about ready "In London Town," fully illustrated. Another work of description will be "The Pacific Islanders," consisting of articles contributed to the Missionary Review during the past eighteen years by well-known writers. "A New Appraisal of Christian Science," by Joseph Dunn Burrell, is not made strictly in the spirit of Mr. Eddy. Useful books will be "How to Speak in Public," by Grenville Kleiser; and "The Mechanism of Speech," by Alexander Graham Bell, a scientist who is an authority on his subject. Ellis Parker Butler, whose "Pigs is Pigs" amused so many readers this spring, will offer "The Incubator Baby," a gentle satire on "scientific motherhood." A volume of literary interest will be made of essays by Tolstoi, Ernest Crosby and Bernard Shaw. Tolstoi's essay is "Our Shakespeare," Crosby treats "Shakespeare's Attitude Towards the Working Classes," and Bernard Shaw furnishes a characteristic letter on the same general subject. Two nature books by William Beutenmüller, of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City, are entitled "Common American and European Insects" and "Common Butterflies and Moths."

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish shortly a sumptuous book entitled "Glimpses of Italian Court Life," by Mrs. Tryphosa Bates Batcheller, a chronicle of the experiences and impressions of an American woman, well known as an amateur singer, who had very exceptional opportunities of studying the exclusive circles of modern Italian society, illustrated with portraits, snapshots of the fashionable hunts, private theatricals and other intimate pictorial documents; also, "Dem Good Old Times," an interesting "Southern" book by Sally M. Dooley, with pictures that express the Southern type of beauty. Instead of waiting until November, this firm have decided to bring out at once their illustrated edition of "They." This story has attracted more attention than any short story written since "The Lady or the Tiger," and by many people is considered to be one of Mr. Kipling's greatest achievements. This edition, which is illustrated in color by F. H. Townsend, was prepared under the special supervision of the author. Another change in Doubleday, Page & Co.'s plans consists of the immediate publication of Frank Norris's little story of "The Joyous Miracle," which will be brought out on October 2, instead of in November, as originally planned. This little Christ story is one of the most perfect things ever written by the man whom many leading critics thought liable to become our greatest American novelist. It was originally published as a long magazine story, and is an exquisite piece of imaginative writing and execution.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY has published this week two stories for children, "Merry-lips," by Beulah Marie Dix, author of "The Fair Maid of Graystones," etc., and "The Railway Children," by E. Nesbit, author of "The Literary Sense," "The German Empire," by Burt Estes Howard, Ph.D.; an illustrated book on "Surrey," painted by Sutton Palmer and described by A. R. Hope Moncrieff; "Tuberculosis: its Origin and Extinction," by W. Pickett Turner, M.D.; "A Beginner's Latin Book," by Virgil Prettyman, principal of Horace Mann High School, and Alexander J. Inglis, instructor in Latin, Horace Mann High School; also, Thackeray's "Henry Esmond," edited by John Bell Henne-man (in the new series of Macmillan's Pocket Classics). They announce for early publication a volume of poems by a hitherto unknown author, whom American readers will be predisposed to like—Coningsby William Dawson, son of that genial critic and man of letters, the Rev. W. J. Dawson. Mr. Dawson is a young Oxford man and has recently come with his father to live in this country. His volume of poems will be called "The Worker, and Other Poems." The piece from which the volume takes its name is said to be a bold and original treatment of a novel theme. F. Marion Crawford's new novel, "A Lady of Rome," is not, as has been supposed, a sequel to "Fair Margaret," but a story dealing with entirely new characters and comparable in setting and spirit with his "Cecilia," rather than with his latest published book. The new story is announced for publication next month.

W. H. LOWDERMILK & Co., Washington, D. C., announce a work on "American Consular Jurisdiction in the Orient," by Dr. Frank E. Hinckler, clerk of the United States Court for China. The privileges and conditions under which foreigners in the Orient—China, Korea, Turkey, Siam, etc.—are allowed to reside and trade in those countries have developed many important principles of consular extraterritorial jurisdiction, and of recent years there has been a growing need and demand for an accurate work on the subject for English readers. This book is therefore intended to supply the want of a thorough and explicit treatise, historical and practical, on the origin, growth and present practice of those consular courts and of the U. S. Court for China. The author has examined all known literature on the subject—English, French and German, but principally American—depending chiefly for his statements on the official sources as contained in the correspondence of the State Department and documents of Congress, in both of which is obviously to be found the most detailed and authoritative explanation of the nature of the privileges enjoyed by American citizens in Oriental countries. The historical portion of the book is most readable, as the author has an interesting style and presents the narrative in an attractive manner. The notes and references are full and complete and there is an exhaustive index. The work is of value not only to the legal student but to all who have any interests in the Oriental countries, or who may come under the jurisdiction of the courts therein.

THE AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION has among its fall books, in the True American Types series, "Cap'n Chadwick," by John White Chadwick, a story of the author's father who was a Marblehead fisherman and shoemaker, and a typical character of the Massachusetts coast; "Life's Enthusiasm," by David Starr Jordan, a call to do things because we love them, to love things because we do them, to keep the eye open, the heart warm and the pulses swift; a holiday portrait edition of "Daughters of the Puritans," by Seth Curtis Beach, which had an excellent sale last year; "The Message of Man," edited by Stanton Colt, a book of ethical Scriptures which in scope, quality and arrangement is as near a perfect expression of the concentrated thought of the world's greatest thinkers as can be compressed into a little pocket volume, arranged in chapters by topics with an index of authors and editions, etc.; "The Shepherd's Question," by Burt Ester Howard, a little volume which, in the rhythmic language of the heart and with the prophetic note of the spirit seeks to convince one of the realizing of the hope of immortality; "Father Taylor," by Robert Collyer, the unique life history of the founder of the Seamen's Bethel in Boston, as told by an old friend who knew him well; also "Representative American Idealists," by Charles W. Eliot—four essays, on Washington, Franklin, Channing and Emerson, which bring into a single volume a summary of the achievements of four men in the foremost rank in shaping the political and intellectual thought of our republic, and, by their lives and writings in framing our American ideals.

HILLS & HAFELY Co., 27 East Twenty-second Street, New York, have been organized and incorporated to specialize the publications of Hills & Co., Ltd., of London. From a typographical standpoint the issues of Hills & Co. are "dainty," and reflect the best achievements of the printer's art. Prominent among their announcements are "Words of Wisdom," a series of twelve little booklets containing choice extracts from the writings and sayings of great men—appropriate gifts for young or old; "A Little Book of Friendly Counsels," classified quotations from the best authors, printed in two colors and daintily bound; a series of six "Religious Booklets," each book containing a Scripture text and a verse for each day of the month, arranged upon a novel plan, each booklet comprising a distinct topic, such as "Hope," "God's Love," "Praise," "Faith," "Comfort," "Prayer." Their birthday and anniversary books are entitled to recognition, both for their literary qualities as for their attractive get-up. There is a series of poets—including Tennyson, Longfellow and Shakespeare—each with a portrait of the poet represented by the volume, and there is a larger size, including six titles, "Friendship's Record," "Pearls of Beauty," "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgotten," "By the Sea Shore," "Across the Far Blue Hills" and "Flowers of Thought," illustrated in colors and daintily bound. Indeed it would be difficult to say which of the line were the more desirable when all are so good. Their line of Christmas cards comprises 250 varieties in colorograph, photogravure, gold blocking and hand painting, distinctive in design and faultless in manufacture. The line of Birthday Cards and Wedding Congratulations is also very full and complete. Their line of Wall Texts for church, home, school, hall and office use has been augmented with a number of attractive cards that may be retailed for from 10 to 50 cents. Catalogues of all these lines are now ready and will be mailed on application.

THOMAS NELSON & SONS announce that the demand for their American Standard Bible and the New Testament is growing, and that it is steadily finding favor in colleges, universities, theological seminaries and Bible training schools, and that it is also coming into more general use in many churches and Sunday-schools in the United States. As a proof of this the publishers are constantly adding to the line, and will publish at once an "Emphasized" edition of the American Standard New Testament on both white and India paper. This "Emphasized" edition will be self-pronouncing and have the words of Christ printed in black-face type. It will be in vest-pocket size, making it one of the handiest and most convenient Testaments ever published. They also have ready an India paper edition of the Minion 32mo Testament and Psalms. The American Standard Bible is now published in the following styles: Teacher's, Concordance, Reference, Scholar's, Text and Pulpit editions, and the Old and New Testament bound separately. In the King James version they announce the Red-Letter Teacher's Bible, containing the complete Red-Letter Bible and their usual Teacher's Helps—Concise Bible Dictionary and Combined Concordance; also, Red-Letter New Testament and new illustrated editions of their Text and Reference Bibles. They have brought out a number of new styles of binding in prayer books and hymnals, and call special attention to the Oblong editions and Bridal Souvenirs in write binding, and to their Altar Service and Fald-Stool Book in great primer type for church use. Nelson's line of colored Toy Books, known all over the country for the fine quality of work and the low prices at which they are sold, has been augmented by many new titles, making it larger and better than ever. The "E. F. G." Pocket Dictionaries make dainty and acceptable holiday gifts. The Nelson Devotional and Juvenile books contain some of the best-selling titles in these lines. Nelson's New Century Library is being added to from time to time, and they announce for this year "George Eliot's Works" complete in 12 volumes, to be ready in November in time for the holiday trade. These volumes will be uniform in style with the works of "Shakespeare," "Dickens," "Thackeray," "Scott," "Brontë," etc., now published in the New Century Library.

H. M. CALDWELL COMPANY have just published "Louis's Salads and Chafing Dishes," by Louis Muckensturm, which is really the work of three masters in the culinary art—two of whom are chefs at large and prominent Boston clubs, and the third holds a responsible position in one of the leading Bohemian resorts in the same city—giving new receipts, generally for three or four persons, and valuable hints on the care of foods; also a companion volume entitled "Louis's Mixed Drinks," carefully prepared receipts for all well-known cocktails, punches, "cups," etc. They will publish this fall a neat little presentation book for men, entitled "Cigarettes in Fact and Fancy," by John Bain, Jr., and Carl Werner, giving facts on the growth, manufacture and blending of the tobacco, and touching also on the lighter side of this daintiest form of smoking; "Over the Nuts and Wine," a catchy little volume of toasts and bon mots, by James Clarence Harvey, author of "In Bohemia," etc.; "The Value of Love," a posthumous work by the late Frederic Lawrence Knowles, a fitting companion to his other authologies, "The Value of Friendship" and "The Value of Courage," with an introduction by Mrs. Louise Chandler Moulton; "My Lady's Point of View," an up-to-date half-memory book and half diary, designed by A. J. Iorio, intended to cover the interesting points of a young girl's life from the time of her debut to her marriage; also, "Recollections of a Gold-Cure Graduate," by Newton Newkirk, editor of the humorous column of the Boston Post, a companion volume to "The Log of the Water Wagon," with illustrations by Wallace Goldsmith. For children they will have "The Jingle of a Jap," by Clara Beil Thurston, with taking little jingles of the love of a Japanese doll for her beautiful Parisian one, the illustrations by the author being in colors; "The Wisbone Boat," a fascinating little story, by Alice C. D. Riley, in the Pleasant Street Series; "Seem So's," by L. J. Bridgman, the author of and illustrator of "Guess, Guess Again," who founds his clever little book on the queer shadow often cast by figures; also, Polly, the Autobiography of a Parrot," by Mrs. Mollie Lee Clifford, who tells the story of a parrot that is taken from the jungles of South America to a city home and taught to speak, and that often gets herself and her mistress into trouble, but with it all shows much common sense. In their various series the Caldwell Company have added many new titles for the coming season. To the Red Letter Library has been added six volumes, namely, "Verse," by C. S. Calverley, with an introduction by Owen Seaman; "Last Essays of Elia," by Charles Lamb, with an introduction by Augustine Birrell; "Essays," by William Hazlitt, with an introduction by Charles Whibley; "Spectator Selected," by Joseph Addison, with an introduction by Louis Bettany; "Psalter in English Verse," by John Keble, with an introduction by Archbishop of Armaugh, and "Religio Medici," by Sir Thomas Browne, with an introduction by Charles Whibley. The Remarque edition has four new titles: "Tales of a Wayside Inn," by Henry W. Longfellow; "King of the Golden River," by John Ruskin; "Love Letters of a Violinist," by Eric Mackay, and "Sketches of Young Couples," by Charles Dickens. The last consists of several of the earlier sketches by Dickens, in which, however, are seen his clear and wonderful characterization unequalled by any other modern author, and even unsurpassed in his later and better known works. As far as is known, this is the first time these sketches have been issued in a volume by themselves. New and attractive cover designs, and also new volumes have been added to their Laureate Series, Golden Counsel Series, Famous Books for Girls, Young Folks' Library, Sesame Classics, Rosemary Classics, Alcazar Classics and the Academe Series, the last being now bound in full limp red paste grain leather as well as cloth.

AUCTION SALES.

A COLLECTOR'S BEQUEST.

"My wish is that my Drawings, my Prints, my Curiosities, my Books—in a word these things of art which have been the joy of my life—shall not be consigned to the cold tomb of a museum, and subjected to the stupid glance of the careless passer-by; but I require that they shall all be dispersed under the hammer of the Auctioneer, so that the pleasure which the acquiring of each one of them has given me shall be given again, in each case, to some inheritor of my own tastes."—From the Will of Edmond de Goncourt.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines, exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small undisplaced advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their Communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," book-sellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

FALL BOOKS FOR GENERAL READERS

Three Important Announcements, Supplementing those in Publishers' Weekly of September 1st

PANAMA AND THE PANAMA CANAL. By WILLIS FLETCHER JOHNSON. With 16 illustrations and 7 colored maps. 8vo. Probable price $3.50 net. (Oct.)

The first complete and up-to-date account in any language of the four centuries of canal agitation and attempts at creation. The author's style is graphic, simple and interesting.

MORALS IN EVOLUTION. By L. T. HOBHOUSE, author of "The Labor Movement," "The Theory of Knowledge," "Mind in Evolution," and "Democracy and Reaction." (Oct.)

There are few, if any, equally interesting compendiums of the revolutionary thought of the last half of the last century.

A ROMANCE OF OLD WARS. By VALENTINA HAWTREY. 12mo, $1.50.

A very human love story, with Von Artvelde's attack on the French as a background.

JUST PUBLISHED

MAINE'S ANCIENT LAW. New Edition with Introduction and Notes by Sir FREDERICK POLLOCK. 8vo, $1.75 net; by mail, $1.92.

JOSEPH VANCE: An Ill-Written Autobiography. By W. DE MORGAN. $1.50.

The New York Globe says—"Perhaps the story as nearly measures up to the best standards of English fiction—the standards of Dickens and Thackeray—as any story recently published. American readers should be grateful to the publishers of (The Divine Fire) for giving them another novel of such conspicuous merit." The English reviewers are highly enthusiastic. The Spectator calls it "A fine novel, by whatever standard we judge it," and The Athenaeum, Speaker, Academy, Westminster Gazette, etc., join in the chorus of praise.

AFFAIRS OF STATE. Being an account of certain surprising adventures which befell an American family in the land of windmills. By BURTON E. STEVENSON, author of "The Marathon Mystery," etc. Illustrated by F. Vaux Wilson. 335 pp., 12mo, $1.50.

SELECTED OCTOBER ANNOUNCEMENTS

IN THE SHADOW OF THE LORD. A Romance of the Washingtons. By Mrs. HUGH FRASER, author of "A Maid of Japan," "Letters from Japan," etc. 12mo, $1.50.

Mrs. Fraser, an author of established reputation, has given the requisite tone of dignity and moral elevation to this impressive story of the mother of George Washington.

THE CRUISE OF THE "VIOLETTA." By ARTHUR COLTON. 12mo, $1.50.

A highly fanciful tale. The story suggests now Stockton, now Stevenson, again Kipling.

A KING'S DIVINITY. By DOLORES BACON, author of "The Diary of a Musician."

Illustrated by Phillips Ward. 12mo, $1.50.

A human, humorous and dramatic tale of Europe and America.

THE POET AND THE PARISH. By MARY MOSS. 12mo, $1.50.

A novel showing both the tyrannies of the conventions and the justification of them.

DADDY'S DAUGHTERS. By MARION AMES TAGGART, author of "Nut Brown Joan." Illustrated. $1.50.

THE BIRD: Its Form and Function. By C. WILLIAM BEEBE, Curator of Birds in the New York Zoölogical Park, author of "Two Bird Lovers in Mexico." With frontispiece in color and 370 illustrations from photographs. 496 pp., sq. 8vo, $3.50 net.

THE LOG OF THE SUN: A Chronicle of Nature's Year. 191 illustrations (fifty-two in color) of Nature's varying aspects, by WALTER KING STONE, with text by C. WILLIAM BEEBE. 8vo.

A CHEERFUL YEAR BOOK. With aphorisms by F. M. KNOWLES. Illustrated by C. F. Lester and with a prolog and epilog by CAROLYN WELLS. 12mo. Probable price $1.50 net. A very pretty, entertaining, humorous picture book with a handy diary attached.

THE FRIENDLY TOWN. A Book for the Urbane. Compiled by E. V. LUCAS. Uniform with "The Open Road." 380 pp. Cloth, $1.50. Also available in leather.

THE LABOR MOVEMENT IN AUSTRALASIA. By VICTOR S. CLARK. $1.50 net. A competent, temperate, and judicial treatment of an important subject.

ENGLISH COLONIES IN AMERICA. Vol III., The Middle Colonies. Vol. IV., The Colonies under the House of Hanover. By J. A. DOYLE. Each volume with colored map. $3.50 retail per volume.

The Baker & Taylor Company

Power Katrina Max Lot Fargus

By MRS. SARAH P. McL. GREENE. Author of "Cape Cod Folks," "Vesty of the Basins," etc., etc. Illustrated. $1.50.

Mrs. Greene's best book. The evolution of Robert Hilton, a dissolute city lad, in the rugged fishing town, the beauty of Mary Stingaree's character and life, and the quaint humor of Power Lot people, are charmingly set forth.

By ROY ROLFE GILSON. Author of "In the Morning Glow," etc., etc. With illustrations in color by ALICE BARBER STEPHENS. 8vo, $1.50.

The subtlety and charm of Mr. Gilson's stories reach their highest point in this book. Larry, the bachelor newspaper man, humorous, kindly, homely, lives over again the romance of his younger days in the charming little daughter of the woman he lost.

By OWEN JOHNSON. Author of "Arrows of the Almighty," etc. Illustrated by F. C. RANSOM. 12mo, $1.50.

Max Fargus, rich and miserly, marries a woman through the machinations of a disreputable lawyer. She is an adventuress against her will. His discovery leads to a remarkable revenge. A powerful story, full of mystery and of exceptional quality.

A History of Architecture

By RUSSELL STURGIS. Author of "A Dictionary of Architecture and Building," "How to Judge Architecture," etc., etc. In three volumes, large 8vos, with 500 illustrations to each volume, cloth, per set, net, $15.00; half-morocco, per set, net, $22.50.

The first volume of this most important architectural work, treating of the entire architecture of the world in a narrative and critical style, will be ready in October.

A NEW WILLIAMS DICKENS BOOK

Mr. Pickwick's Christmas

With ten illustrations in color and line by GEORGE ALFRED WILLIAMS. $2.00. A companion to "A Christmas Carol" and "The Cricket on the Hearth."

Mr. Williams' charming illustrations make very attractive this well-known section of the Pickwick Papers.

Lady Hollyhock and Her Friends

A BOOK OF NATURE DOLLS

By MARGARET COULSON WALKER. 52 illustrations, $1.25.

A most charming and unusual juvenile, giving descriptions in an attractive text of how to make dolls out of flowers, fruit, clay, spools, peanuts, and hundreds of other everyday articles. 16 illustrations in full color.

THE BAKER & TAYLOR CO., Publishers
33-37 EAST SEVENTEENTH STREET, NEW YORK

Two Sterling American Novels

A TENDER, IMPELLING STORY THAT THOUSANDS WILL SMILE OVER, AND CRY OVER AND BE GLAD THEY HAVE READ.

THE STORY OF MARTIN COE

By RALPH D. PAINE

Illustrated by Howard Giles

A tender, impelling story of a young filibuster and deserter from the United States Navy, who is regenerated by a woman's affection and a girl's love. A big souled story, with the swinging sea and a quiet Maine village as a background. The author's previous book, THE PRAYING SKIPPER, was called by the critics the best book of short stories of the year. In this novel Mr. Paine proves his ability to write a long story; one that is full of sturdy Americanism of which he himself is a type.

Cloth, $1.50

A STRONG, TRUE AMERICAN STORY THAT GRIPS YOU IN THE BEGINNING AND SWEEPS YOU OFF YOUR FEET IN THE END

THE BALANCE OF POWER

By ARTHUR GOODRICH

Illustrated by Otto Toaspern

Every little while there appears that rare achievement, a novel that really stands for something, that actually entertains, inspires and makes one glad for the reading of it. This is one of them. It deals with vital American life and vital American types. It is diverse. The old, old story is told over. Humor runs through and enlivens its pages. There is fighting in it—fighting for the right. There are high purposes and ideals and the spirit of the "Golden Rule." There are portrayed manly men and womanly women, Americans all strong and self-reliant, but yet like Douglas of old, "tender and true." A novel of courageous optimism.

Cloth, $1.50

By RALPH D. PAINE

THE PRAYING SKIPPER - - $1.50

Illustrations by Blumenschein, Lyendecker, Walter Appleton Clark, Aylward, and Sydney Adamson.

A delightful collection of stories, including: "The Praying Skipper," "A Victory Unforeseen," "The Last Pilot Schooner," "Surfman Brainard's Day Off," "The Jade Teapot," "Captain Arendt's Choice," and "Corporal Sweeney, Deserter." They are vigorous and strong tales, showing the author's wide range of human feeling, and his complete mastery of the art of story-telling.

"Never were seven better stories of their kind gathered together into one volume, stories of natural power and pathos, and touching many points of human interest."—Nashville American.

By LAWRENCE MOTT

THE WHITE DARKNESS - - $1.50

Stories of the Canadian Northwest

Illustrations by Cuneo and Schoonover.

A group of interesting tales dealing with the Northwest Mounted Police, and also stories of the courageous backwoods people who brave the snows and north winds of Canada, and who unconsciously weave little dramas of their own well worth setting down in print.

By ALFRED HENRY LEWIS

THE THROWBACK - - - $1.50

Illustrated with a frontispiece in color and three other pictures from paintings by N. C. Wyeth.

A romantic story of the Southwest, when the Indian council fires still smoked and the law of the strongest prevailed. Few know the West as Mr. Lewis knows it. An intensely interesting novel, full of incident, adventure and humor.

By ARTHUR RUHL

A BREAK IN TRAINING - - $1.25

And Other Athletic Stories

Illustrated with colored frontispiece, by Howard Chandler Christy.

A group of interesting stories that have won much favor and well-deserved comment.

By ALBERT BIGELOW PAINE

THE LUCKY PIECE - - - $1.25

Frontispiece in color.

A tender, sweet, wholesome love story. The scene is laid among the Adirondacks. The Lucky Piece is an old Spanish coin, and it plays an important part in the story. The story will appeal to all lovers of the outdoors.

"The sweet and pure breath of the mountain permeates it from cover to cover."
—Evening Telegram, New York.

By GROVER CLEVELAND

FISHING AND SHOOTING SKETCHES - Net, $1.25

Numerous illustrations by Hy. S. Watson.

A handsome volume containing a group of virile papers by Mr. Cleveland on his favorite out-door sports. Personal experiences while Duck Shooting, Rabbit Hunting, Fishing, etc., are interspersed with his opinions and ideas regarding "The True Mission of Sport and Out-door Life."

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE

THE PASS - - - - - Net, $1.25

With marginal decorations on every page; frontispiece in color by Lungren, and many illustrations from photographs.

A companion volume to "The Mountains" and "The Forest," containing the story of a remarkable trip across the high Sierras. For brilliant description, entertaining and humorous incidents, vivid lore of forest and mountain, this narrative probably excels anything Mr. White has yet written, and will no doubt be the leading outdoor book of the year.

By EMERSON HOUGH

THE STORY OF THE OUTLAW Net, $1.50

With four illustrations, by John W. Norton; also numerous half-tone plates from photographs.

A very graphic story dealing with the Western desperado in all his phases, from the outlaw of the plains to the mining camp; his reason for being, his life in the open and its hardships, his punishments, his logical end. Besides the lives of the most notable desperadoes, there are also included biographical sketches of prominent Western sheriffs. As a work portraying the frontier in all its boldness and outlawry, "The Story of the Outlaw" will stand as an important historic document.

By HORACE KEPHART

THE BOOK OF CAMPING AND WOODCRAFT

Net, $1.50

With many illustrations of camping scenes reproduced by half-tone plates from photographs. A very practical book written by a man of vast experience. The volume will serve as a superior guide to those who contemplate "life in the open."

Leather binding, camper's edition, $2.00 net

By W. B. MERSHON

THE PASSENGER PIGEON - Net, $3.00

Illustrated with colored frontispiece, by Louis Agassiz Fuertes, and many other colored and half-tone reproductions.

This book completely covers the history of the passenger pigeon, a bird once plentiful but now as extinct as the buffalo. The authoritative book on this subject.

By ROBERT DUNN

THE SHAMELESS DIARY OF AN EXPLORER - - - - - Net, $1.50

Illustrated with numerous half-tone plates from photographs taken by the author.

This volume gives an account of an attempt to ascend Mt. McKinley, and is written from a novel point of view.

By FRANCIS METCALFE

SIDE SHOW STUDIES - - - $1.25

In this book Mr. Metcalfe tells many funny things of the freaks and the exhibits. The yarn of how the elephant was white-washed, how a mouse busted up the mermaid show, and the many other droll stories, make a volume at once amusing, instructive and entertaining.

"Its amusing stories remind one of Artemus Ward's 'Kangaroo'"—Southern Star, Atlanta, Ga.

"The function of the book, like that of the circus, is to amuse the reader, and it is a success in that."—Columbus, O., Despatch.

BILLON WALLACE'S remarkable story of Labrador exploration. THE LONG LABRADOR TRAIL will appear in the early spring. Mr. Wallace's former book "The Lure of the Labrador Wild" created and held a deep interest among a wide reading public, an interest which will be increased by the story of the last and successful adventurous journey.

New Fiction

THE CATTLE- BARON'S DAUGHTER

By HAROLD BINDLOSS

Author of "Alton of Somasco," Etc.

A romance of real issues treating of the conditions in the cattle country at that critical period of transition when the great tracts of land, previously used for grazing, were taken up by incoming homesteaders.

The struggle between the old order and the new envelops the interests of Hetty Torrance, the daughter of the most influential cattle-baron, and Larry Grant, the leader of the new movement.

The tale of their devotion fraught with numerous difficulties arouses profound admiration for the plucky girl and deep respect for the man whose stern sense of honor puts to shame the greed and selfishness of the cattle-barons.

The BREATH of the RUNNERS

By MARY MEARS

"To succeed, this word unknown a century since, is to-day the sovereign ruler of all lives."

How this desire for recognition may both bless and ban, how it strains at the very breath of the runners as they move, is the theme. The environment is that great undercurrent art-world just beginning to be known in our new land.

The opening chapters have a surprising flavor of originality, and play with unusual delicacy upon the sympathies. These chapters have also the true atmosphere of a section of New York little known by the thousands who pass it daily on their way to and from the Brooklyn ferries or their homes uptown.

A well known art critic says, "The style is marvelous; it is a book of youth, of enthusiasms; it is unlike anything in our literature."

THE COLLECTOR'S MANUAL

By N. HUDSON MOORE

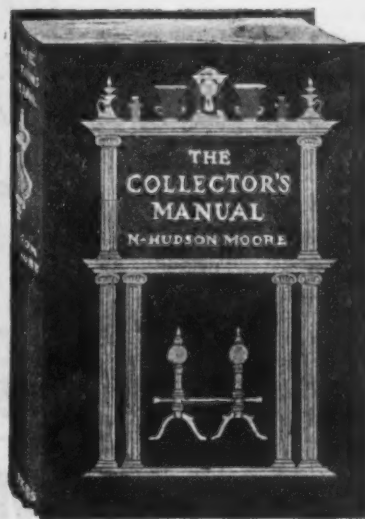

Author of "The Old China Book," "The Lace Book," Etc.

A guide for collectors and lovers of antiques. It covers such topics as Old Glass, Brass and Copper, English Pottery and Porcelain, besides many items of furniture, beds, chairs, sideboards, tables, etc. It gives information by which the collector may select what is good, and points out the means of detecting the fraudulent. The illustrations, selected with great care, are surprisingly numerous and fine.

The chapter on "Cottage Ornaments" has never been treated before. Many of the popular subjects with the names of their makers are given.

This book will interest and educate all home-makers.

With 336 Illustrations. Cloth, Large 4to, Gilt Top, Boxed, Net, $5.00. Postpaid, $5.45

DECORATIVE STYLES and PERIODS

By HELEN CHURCHILL CANDEE

A careful study of the sequence of styles as one followed another from antiquity, through the Renaissance, down to the present time; a valuable résumé both for collectors and the makers of artistic homes. Among other matters is traced the derivation of the much-prized furniture styles of the early American colonists, ignorance of which causes much confusion and diversity of opinion.

Large 12mo, Cloth. 290 Pages. Illustrated. $2.00 Net. Postpaid, $2.18

CHATS on OLD PRINTS

By ARTHUR HAYDEN

Written to enable collectors and those interested in old prints to discriminate between the various styles of engravings. The book contains a glossary of technical terms, a bibliography, a full index and a table giving over 350 of the leading engravers who worked in England from the sixteenth to the nineteenth centuries.

Each Large 12mo, Cloth, Profusely Illustrated, $2.00 net. Postpaid, $2.18

CHATS on FANCY COSTUMES

By G. W. RHEAD

The subject of dress is approached from the æsthetic standpoint. The book is in no sense technical, and consists of an introduction, dealing with the subject in its general aspect, followed by a series of entertaining chats on the characteristic styles of dress of all ages and nations.

The MAKING of a HOUSEWIFE

By ISABEL GORDON CURTIS

In simple story form the author tells how a capable housekeeper gives daily aid to a young bride next door, who has taken upon herself the care of a home in total ignorance of the problems confronting her.

New Books for Children

JACK the YOUNG CANOEER

By GEORGE BIRD GRINNELL

The fourth volume in the Jack Series which has become so popular with boys. All through the book is found the same faithfulness to nature and to fact that has characterized the previous volumes, and while there is abundant information about outdoor life and nature, it is so deftly concealed that the reader is unaware that he is being informed. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, $1.25.

The WILD FLOWER BOOK for YOUNG PEOPLE

By ALICE LOUNSBERRY

The author has told a story, wherein the lives of wild flowers, and those of children, are intermingled by the happy incidents of out-of-door life in the country. The language of the book is simple, and relates the surprises in the unfoldings of Nature, and wonders at her laws and beauties. Cloth, 12mo, net $1.50; postpaid $1.67.

The CHILD'S LIFE of JESUS

By Rev. O. M. Steedman

The story of the birth, life, death and resurrection of Jesus told with a simplicity of language and a religious fervor which is in refreshing contrast to the cold and pedantic treatises of the so-called higher critics. With thirty original pictures in colors by Paul Woodroffe. Large 8vo, cloth, gilt top, net $3.00; postpaid $3.25.

AN ISLAND STORY

By H. E. Marshall

A Child's History of England. Every intelligent child will read this story of a great nation with delight, and thus absorb unconsciously the landmarks of English history. With 30 original illustrations in color by A. S. Forrest. Large 8vo, cloth, gilt top, net $2.50; postpaid $2.75.

DEEDS of DARING DONE by GIRLS

By N. Hudson Moore

The author has chosen six examples of heroism performed by girls, under twenty, of various nationalities—one American, one Dutch, one Spanish, one Canadian, one little French girl who lived in Louisiana, and another who lived and died in her beloved France. Cloth, 12mo, illustrated, $1.50.

STOKES' ENCYCLOPEDIA of FAMILIAR QUOTATIONS

Compiled by ELFORD E. TREFFRY

Since the last appearance of a reliable encyclopedia of familiar quotations many authors then unknown have come to be widely quoted, while many quotations then familiar are now known only to the erudite few.

The clearing out of this dead wood and substituting for it the actually familiar quotations of more recent writers was then one of the main ideas in the compilation of this new encyclopedia; but on the other hand, the immortal quotations are here given more fully than ever before.

The index gives all the important words of a quotation instead of the first only; its arrangement by subjects instead of by authors makes the work more convenient than the older volumes.

Cloth, 8vo, net, $2.25; postpaid, $2.45; same, half crushed levant, gilt top, net, $4.50; postpaid, $4.75.

TIBET: THE MYSTERIOUS

By SIR THOMAS HOLDICH

All the expeditions that have been undertaken to explore this well-nigh impregnable land, from the earliest times up to the late investment by the English troops under Colonel Younghusband, are here chronologically described with both dramatic force and close historical accuracy. Fully illustrated, colored maps, etc. 8vo, cloth, net $3.00; postpaid $3.18.

A SHORT HISTORY of MODERN ENGLISH LITERATURE

By Edmund Gosse, M.A., LL.D.

Mr. Gosse's work on English Literature has attained the rank of a classic. The author has now made important revisions and additions, and the publishers have brought out the work as an enlarged Portrait Edition. Illustrated with eight photogravures and 64 half-tone portraits. Cloth, 8vo, with gilt top, net $2.50; postpaid $2.68.

The GARDEN MONTH by MONTH

By Mabel C. Sedgwick

Within the compass of this convenient volume is given in clearly tabulated form so that it can readily be acquired at a glance, all the information which the cultivator of a garden could wish or require. With a chart in colors and numerous full-page half-tone engravings. Cloth, net $3.00; postpaid $3.20.

FAMOUS HYMNS of the WORLD

What Mr. Ade has done in his "Fables," and Mr. Dunne in "Dooley's Philosophy," Mr. Outcault now does with Buster Brown philosophy as expressed in his "Resolutions."

MY RESOLUTIONS: BUSTER BROWN

By R. F. OUTCAULT

Whereas our other American humorists have chosen the direct method of expressing their "wit and wisdom," Mr. Outcault is more original in using "Buster Brown"—a child—as a means of giving his observations. Thus, his preaching has a genial effect and is apt to be inoffensive. To those who have known Mr. Outcault as a fun-maker only, this book will be an "eye-opener."

Like our greatest American humorist, Mark Twain, he has a serious and thoughtful side, although this is the first time he has shown it to any marked degree in his writings and drawings.

New Handy Shakespeare.

- Edited by W. J. ROLFE, Litt.D. This is in all respects the finest handy volume edition of Shakespeare's plays and poems ever made. It is most complete, but although the text and commentary occupies 8500 pages, the excellent thin Bible India paper used reduces the bulk of the volumes so that they are not more than three-quarters of an inch thick. The work comprises the Cambridge text of William Aldis Wright. The commentary includes introductions, notes and glossaries by Israel Gollancz, editor of the Temple Shakespeare, together with the complete notes and variorum readings of Alexander Dyce, a general introduction by William J. Rolfe, Litt.D., and a history of the drama and general criticism by Henry N. Hudson and others. Other features are an index of characters; also biographical and genealogical prefaces to the historical plays by George Russell French, edited by Dr. William J. Rolfe. BLACKIE & SON'S Announcements for Autumn 1906

THE CHILD'S CHRISTMAS

Pictured by CHARLES ROBINSON, with text by EVELYN SHARP. Large 4to, cloth elegant, full gold edges, price $2.00.

In this beautiful volume Mr. Charles Robinson and Miss Evelyn Sharp describe with mingled sentiment and humor all the joyous happenings of the Christmas season. The author of "The Youngest Girl in the School," and other books that seem likely to be numbered among the classics of the school-room, is unequalled among living writers in the sympathetic understanding of childhood and childhood's ways; and in describing for children the season of the year that peculiarly belongs to them, she has a subject after her own heart. And who could be found better fitted than Mr. Charles Robinson to illustrate the Christmas season? In nearly two hundred charming illustrations, in color and black-and-white, the artist tells pictorially what the author describes in words—the events of Christmas-Eve; the visit of Santa Claus; the joys of Christmas-Day; the Christmas party; the Christmas pantomime; the outdoor sports; all, in fact, that makes Christmas a time of pure delight to the young, and to "grown-ups" a season of kindness and good-will. In the sumptuousness of its get-up, the richness of binding, the quality of paper, the technical excellence of printing, and the care that has been lavished on the reproduction of the line illustrations, "The Child's Christmas" is a triumph of modern book production.

THE LOST EXPLORERS

By ALEXANDER MACDONALD, F. R. G. S. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, price $1.50. Jack Armstrong and Robert Wentworth, two young English engineers, go to the wilds of western Australia in search of gold, and are joined by an amusing Scotchman. They find the precious metal and as usual in such cases have to defend their claim from outlaws. The ingenuity and inventiveness of Wentworth overcome difficulties and frustrate the schemes of claim-jumpers. Here we have a vivid description of camp life not unlike that of the Californians of '49. Going to newer fields the party are lost in the desert, and narrowly escape death from thirst. Encounters with native savages enliven this part of their journey, and on their return they find a city built around their original diggings.

Mr. Macdonald has a tale to tell, and tells it well. An exploring experience in Patagonia, the Klondike, Central Africa, and in these arid regions of Australia—where he now is, and concerning which he is writing for us a new book—has given him a power of description unusual in authors of juvenile books. There is no writer of boys' books to-day who so quickly gains and holds the interest of youthful readers.

OUR SISTER MAISIE

GIRL COMRADES

By ETHEL F. HEDDLE. Illustrated by G. DEMAINE HAMMOND, R.I. Large crown 8vo, cloth elegant, gilt top, price $1.50.

"The mantle of Henty seems to have fallen upon Captain Brereton."—Times.

ROGER THE BOLD: A Tale of the Conquest of Mexico

By CAPTAIN F. S. BRERETON. Illustrated by STANLEY L. WOOD. 12mo, cloth elegant, price $1.50.

Captain Brereton could not have chosen a more attractive background for his new book than the Conquest of Mexico, and the story which he has woven into it is of surpassing interest. The story opens shortly after the discovery of Mexico, and Roger joins an expedition which goes to explore the new country. He is a great fighter, and the tale tells how he is put in charge of a wonderful disk, how a certain traitor robs him, and how he finally comes as a prisoner to Mexico. There he nearly loses his life on the altar of the god of war, but he makes such a determined opposition that the Mexicans think he is a god, and ask him to take the post of cacique or chief. They offer him all their treasure if he will aid them in their fight against the Spaniards, stipulating only that he shall first recover the disk, for without that the secret of the whereabouts of the treasure is lost. The reader will learn with bated breath of the adventures which Roger experiences in attempting this task, of the desperate and historical defence which he organizes on the Mexican causeways, and of his narrow escape from the city before retreat is cut off. He returns to England, rich enough to retrieve the fallen fortunes of his family.

WITH ROBERTS TO CANDAHAR

By CAPTAIN F. S. BRERETON, author of "Roger the Bold," "A Gallant Grenadier," "The Dragon of Pekin," "Foes of the Red Cockade," "A Soldier of Japan," etc. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, price $1.50.

A new story by Captain Brereton, dealing with the incidents of the third Afghan war. Alec Dennisson, a young English lieutenant, whose father, Major Dennisson, was supposed to have been killed in the massacre of the British at Cabul, joins the punitive expedition under General Roberts—the idolized "Bobs" of the British army. On arriving at Cabul, with two young companions, he is attacked and cornered by native fanatics, but after a successful defense in a deserted house, ingeniously escapes. The vivid and historically correct description of the attack on the British defenses at Cabul by the Afghans is given greater interest through the important part taken by our hero in that battle. During British occupation a thrilling adventure in the native quarter comes to a successful termination through the help of an Afghan whose life the hero spared in a previous engagement, and through his later assistance, Alec finds and liberates three white prisoners of the Afghan Sirdar—one of whom is his father, supposedly killed at the Cabul massacre. The newness of the scenes and the novelty to American boys of Afghan life combine to give the tale an interest not found in American stories.

ROUND DE OLE PLANTATION

A picture-book for children. Humorous illustrations of the old negro melodies. By G. F. CHRISTIE. Artistically bound, with picture design on side, price $1.00.

A book full of delightful humor, in which bright pictures of little negro children are made to illustrate such popular plantation songs as "The Golden Slippers," "I'se gwine back to Dixie," "Shine, bright Moon," "Come under de ole Umbrella," etc. There are 24 pages of pictures in full color, and the illustrations are as artistic as the treatment is novel.

THE CHILDREN'S YEAR

In picture boards. 192 pages of new stories and pictures, 40 full-page colored illustrations. Cover design by CHARLES ROBINSON. Price $1.00.

This is a fresh departure in gift-books for little folk. It is a handsome volume, printed on fine paper, in bold type, and lavishly illustrated, in color and black-and-white, by many of the most eminent artists of the day. The contributions, in prose and verse, are by the best living writers for children.

THE AMERICAN STANDARD SCHOOL DICTIONARY

Crown 8vo, 448 pages, strongly bound in cloth, price 25 cents.

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL DICTIONARY, now issued for the first time, has been compiled, under the most competent editorship, with the express purpose of providing a really reliable and up-to-date dictionary at the cheap price of 25c. It is in the confident expectation of securing a very large sale that the publishers have ventured to produce a book of this importance and size at so exceedingly low a price, but they believe that the demand for a full, reliable, and very cheap dictionary is so general that the event will show them to have been warranted in their expectations.

Containing a large vocabulary, the book will be found to be thoroughly practical. In typographic arrangement it is clear. The definitions are equally so, and to these are added pronunciations, irregular forms of verbs, peculiar plurals of nouns, etc. To the dictionary proper have been added, in the form of Appendices, useful lists of various kinds such as: FOREIGN WORDS AND PHRASES; ABBREVIATIONS AND CONTRACTIONS; MONEYS, WEIGHTS, AND MEASURES. In order to meet the needs of the great and rapidly increasing number of the community which is interested, professionally or otherwise, in science, engineering and technical pursuits, special appendices are given in which the chief TERMS USED IN PHYSICS, CHEMISTRY, CIVIL AND ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING, etc., are explained, while a section is devoted to presenting pictorially the most important MECHANICAL MOVEMENTS.

Announcements for Fall

The following books represent a few of the many good things we have to offer the trade for the coming holiday season. The public looks forward with eagerness each year to the showing of the "Dodge" publications, and in many of the larger stores our unique productions are the central attraction. We would suggest a personal visit to our comfortable sample rooms, if convenient, but if you cannot visit us we promise you careful and prompt attention by mail. Samples will be cheerfully forwarded to responsible booksellers and advertising literature gratis. If you have not got our booklet "Good Things for Booklovers," send for it to-day.

BIRTHDAY BOOKS. An entirely new line, printed from new type, with decorated borders in color by Gerta Schroedter. Three titles—Shakespeare, Longfellow and Emerson. Beautifully bound in decorated cloth, $1.00; full limp morocco, $1.50; half morocco, hand sewed and tooled, $2.50; full morocco, hand sewed and tooled, $3.50.

COSY CORNER CONFIDENCES. By Walter Pulitzer. A companion volume to "A Cynic's Meditations." This is a rare collection of real epigrams, original, witty and worthy of a permanent place on any library shelf. The sayings are even better than "A Cynic's Meditations" (now in its 16th edition), concerning which John Kendrick Bangs says: "Many of the epigrams are delicious," and the London Sketch adds: "We certainly place Mr. Pulitzer far above other American writers of epigrams." Made in unusual size and style. Boards, 75 cents; leather, $1.00.

THE BIOGRAPHY OF OUR BABY. Verses by Edmund Vance Cooke and drawings by Bessie Collins Pease. An entirely new baby record book. New colored plates by a popular artist; verses by the author of "Chronicles of the Little Tot" and paper made to be written on with pen and ink. These are a few of the points that go to make this the best book on the market at the price. Cloth, $1.50; silk, padded, $3.00; ooze leather, $4.00.

TOLD TO THE LITTLE TOT.

Edmund Vance Cooke's first book for children is going to make a decided hit everywhere. Bound uniform with his volume of poems about children, "Chronicles of the Little Tot," and containing thirty-nine illustrations by Bessie Collins Pease, nine in full color. There is probably no one in the world better fitted to tell stories to children than Mr. Cooke. His recent poems about children show a wonderful insight and a thorough knowledge of child-life and character, and in a very short time Mr. Cooke's poems have obtained a wide and cordial reception. Cloth, $1.50.

Mr. Cooke's other works are "Rimes to be Read," miscellaneous poems, cloth, $1.50; "Chronicles of the Little Tot," poems about children, cloth, $1.50.

CHRISTMAS BOOKS by Charles Dickens, containing all of the Christmas stories, beautifully printed and bound. Two volumes, cloth, $1.50; limp leather, $2.50.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF REST. By E. A. Fletcher. A work of great helpfulness to those who would find rest from the nerve-wrecking rush of present-day life. Cloth, 75 cents.

A PRAYER. By Max Ehrmann. This beautiful prayer, which has had a circulation of about half a million copies, is printed with several other choice prose poems by the same author in an artistic little volume in gold and two colors. One of the most successful books made this year. Leatherette, 75 cents; ooze leather, $1.50.

HERBERT B. TURNER & CO., 683 Atlantic Ave., Boston

THE INITIAL VOLUME OF McLoughlin Bros.' Athletic Library

"Midget" Blake, Pitcher

By LESLIE W. QUIRK

Author Baby Elton, Quarterback, etc.

Profusely illustrated in tints, with colored frontispiece, done in lithography. Cloth, 12mo, exquisitely stamped in three colors. Price, Fifty Cents.

A pulsating baseball story for boys. The young hero, nicknamed "The Midget," is bound to win his way straight to the hearts of all lovers of the national game. He is the star pitcher of the college nine that finally wins the championship, after a series of the most exciting games that were ever put into a book. It is not a superficial treatment of baseball, but a thoroughly technical story of the sport, with "bunts" and "flies," "spit-balls," "home-steals," marvelous catches, "squeeze" plays and the like. The scene is a college, and young readers will catch the infection called "college-spirit" before the first chapter is read. Besides the hero, there are a number of familiar types of characters—big, bluff Coach Kling; Traitor Bounder, who threw the game but later made up for his dishonesty; a rival pitcher who did all in his power to lessen Midget's glory, and countless others. Readers of the author's stories in St. Nicholas, Youth's Companion, American Boy, etc., will find Midget one of the strongest characters Mr. Quirk has ever offered his thousands of boy readers.

Ready October 1st

Young Folks' Colonial Library

"That is a good book that is opened with expectation and closed with profit."

—ALCOTT.

This series of books will consist of biographical stories of the minor characters in the War for Independence. They are written in a style appealing especially to young people; but the adult will find them authentic as well as interesting reading. The stories have been carefully prepared and deal only in facts, with enough romantic coloring to give them freshness and interest. Our young folks will find them a material aid to the study of our country's history. The books are profusely illustrated in tints, frontispieces in colored lithography. Cloth, 12mo, stamped in three colors. Price, per Vol., Forty Cents.

By PERCY K. FITZHUGH:

Story of John Paul Jones

This work is an absorbing and authentic account of our famous hero's life, and his deeds on the high sea in the War for Independence.

The Story of Ethan Allen

The Green Mountain Boy

This book tells the thrilling tale of the capture of Crown Point and Ticonderoga, by "the Green Mountain Boys," as well as other stirring events in which this patriotic band had a part.

The Story of General Anthony Wayne

("Mad Anthony")

The Hero of Stony Point

The subject of this tale, as well as the style and plan of the book, renders it unique in American biographical literature. It is a series of glimpses, a sort of fast moving panorama in which may be seen the most dramatic incidents in the War for Independence.

McLOUGHLIN BROS., 890 Broadway, New York

Young Folks' Colonial Library

The Story of General Francis Marion

The Bayard of the South

The reader's interest in this volume is centered in the swamps of South Carolina, where "Marion and his Merry Men" made their home. The life of Robin Hood itself cannot rival that of the extraordinary Marion in romantic interest. He is forever associated with midnight camp-fires, rousing songs, gallant raids and hair-breadth escapes. Volumes to follow shortly :

The Story of Baron Johann DeKalb

This book deals with a period of peace as well as one of war, being unique among the other works in the series.

It gives a pleasant view of Colonial life previous to the War for Independence, showing the old tavern life in the days of stage-coaches and post-boys. It tells the story of France's relations with the Colonies and how the brave DeKalb chanced to come to America, and how he became a Continental officer. From this point on the story describes his participation in the fight for freedom and his final end in the battle of Camden, where he was the hero of the day.

The Story of General Richard Montgomery

This story affords a vivid glimpse of the most dramatic episodes in two wars. It describes the most exciting incidents in the French and Indian conflict, and ends with the disastrous invasion of Canada by the Continental forces in the fight for independence. The sad fate of the hero of this historical tale forms one of the most interesting and pathetic episodes in American history. The story of how he came to the thirteen colonies as a British Colonel, and finally cast his lot with the struggling patriots, is filled with all the incidents requisite to a thrilling and absorbing narrative.

"Making an Oxford Bible"

Most Remarkable Product of the Greatest of Printing Houses

"The Oxford Bibles are, as all the world knows, more popular and more widely circulated than any other edition of the sacred volume, and all the world knows also that their remarkable popularity depends upon the marvelous qualities of the paper on which they are printed. For the Bible is one of the longest books in the world; and, in order that it may be presented to the student in a shape at once serviceable and compact, paper of very peculiar attributes is required. It must be very thin, but at the same time it must be strong in texture and opaque. The famous Oxford India paper fulfils these conditions in a greater degree than any other paper in the world; and during the last twenty years it has entirely revolutionized the Bible trade."

MR. RIDER HAGGARD'S NEW ROMANCE

THE SPIRIT OF BAMBATSE

A Romance. By H. RIDER HAGGARD, Author of "She," "Allan Quartermain," "King Solomon's Mines," etc. Crown 8vo, Illustrated. $1.50.

This is an African story in which Mr. Haggard returns, in some measure, to the vein of "King Solomon's Mines." The heroine of the story, Benita, has many exciting experiences from which she emerges well and happy.

A GIRL OF RESOURCE: A NOVEL

By EYRE HUSSEY, Author of "Miss Badsworth, M.F.H.," etc. Crown 8vo. $1.50.

"A story full of 'go' and charm and spirit, with love and some sport, and the sanity of country life about it."—Evening Standard.

POLO

By T. B. DRYBROUGH, ex-Captain, Edinburgh Polo Club; Member of Hurlingham, etc. With 150 Illustrations from Photographs and Several Diagrams. Revised and Enlarged Edition. 8vo. $4.00, net.

Of three new chapters added to this book the most important deals with polo in America. "The number of photographic illustrations has been raised from one hundred to one hundred and fifty. Among the portraits of American players are those of nine-goal, eight-goal, and six-goal handicap players who took part in last year's tournaments."—Extract from Preface.

INDUSTRIAL EFFICIENCY

A Comparative Study of Industrial Life in England, Germany, and America. By ARTHUR SHADWELL, M.A., M.D., Author of "Drink, Temperance, and Legislation." 2 vols. Vol. I., pp. xiv-346; Vol. II., pp. x-488. 8vo. $7.00 net.

The manner in which he has treated his subjects stamps him as one who can do much toward the presentation to the public of valuable industrial research work, and it would well repay our manufacturers to absorb all that he has to say in their fields of activity that they may benefit from what valuable information and suggestions are given therein. The chapters treating on the conditions of cotton manufacturing in the leading English, German and American cities must be of great interest and value to all of our mill-men, and should be read and thought over."—Journal of Commerce and Textile Industries, Boston.

ESSAYS IN PASTORAL MEDICINE

By AUSTIN O'MALLEY, M.D., Ph.D., LL.D., Pathologist and Ophthalmologist to Saint Agnes's Hospital, Philadelphia, and JAMES J. WALSH, M.D., Ph.D., LL.D., Adjunct Professor of Medicine, Professor of Nervous Diseases and of the History of Medicine, Fordham University, New York. 8vo. pp. viii-363. $2.50, net. By mail, $2.68.

"The term Pastoral Medicine is somewhat difficult to define because it comprises unrelated material ranging from disinfection to feticide. It presents that part of medicine which is of import to a pastor in his cure, and those divisions of ethics and moral theology which concern a physician in his practice. It sets forth facts and principles whereby the physician himself or his pastor may direct the operator's conscience whenever medicine takes on a moral quality, and it also explains to the pastor, who must often minister to a diseased mind, certain medical truths which will soften harsh judgments, and other facts, which may be indifferent morally but which assist him in the proper conduct of his work, especially as an educator. Pastoral medicine is not to be confused with the code of rules commonly called medical ethics."—Extract from Preface.

ABYSSINIA OF TO-DAY

An Account of the First Mission sent by the American Government to the King of Kings. By ROBERT P. SKINNER, Commissioner of Abyssinia, 1903-4; American Consul-General; Fellow of the American Geographical Society; Soci dou Felibrige. With numerous Illustrations and Map. 8vo. $3.00, net.

The object of this American Mission to the Emperor Menelik was to negotiate a commercial treaty. The Mission was extremely well received, and the expedition appears to have been a complete success. The picture drawn by Mr. SKINNER of the Abyssinians and their ruler is an exceedingly agreeable one; and his notes on this land of grave faces, elaborate courtesy, classic tone, and Biblical civilization, its history, politics, language, literature, religion, and trade, are full of interest; there are also some valuable hints on the organization and equipment of a caravan.

WESTERN TIBET AND THE BRITISH BORDER

By CHARLES A. SHERRING, M.A., F.R.G.S., Indian Civil Service; Deputy Commissioner of Almora. With 275 Illustrations and 5 Maps and Sketches. Royal 8vo. $6.00, net.

During the last few years Tibet, wrapped through the centuries in mystery, has been effectively "opened up" to the gaze of the Western world, and already the reader has at his disposal an enormous mass of information on the country and its inhabitants. But there is in Western Tibet a region which is still comparatively little known, which is especially sacred to the Hindu and Buddhist, and in which curious myths and still more curious manners abound; and it is of this portion of the British Borderland, its government, and the religion and customs of its peoples, that Mr. SHERRING writes.

The book contains an account by Dr. T. G. LONGSTAFF, M.B., F.R.G.S., of an attempt to climb Gurla Manhata, the highest mountain in Western Tibet, with two Swiss guides, which is especially noteworthy as being the first occasion on which a Tibetan mountain has been attacked according to approved modern methods. A special feature of the numerous illustrations in the book are the magnificent panoramic views.

THE BOOK OF THE YEAR "THIS WAS A MAN!"

By HATTIE HORNER LOUTHAN

If you read but one book this year, this is the book that you should read. It is the most powerful, soul-stirring tale that has passed through the presses in many years. It is a story of heredity, a story based on the belief that "blood will tell," a story of sinners and of one who "was a man." The scene is laid in Colorado at the present time. Frontispiece of Paul the hero. Price, $1.50.

Yarb and Cretine

By Dr. GEORGE B. H. SWAYZE

The author, a prominent Philadelphia physician, has written a bit of fiction that will be handed to our children and grandchildren in years to come, along with Dickens and Shakespeare. Fully illustrated. Price, $1.50.

Owl Tower

By CHARLES S. COOM

Author of "The Baronet Rag Picker"

Again Mr. Coom has placed his story in the Old World, this time in England. A jolly book for the young folks. Fully illustrated. Price, $1.50.

Fires of Desire

By

LAWRENCE ROGERS MANSFIELD

A young Chicagoan of the cloth is sent to India as a teacher. He meets a beautiful native girl, pretends to marry her, but in reality betrays her. Returning to America he finds that his sweetheart has gone to India and has met the girl he has betrayed. The end is tragic. A tale of great strength which every one should read. Illustrated. Price, $1.50.

Highland Mary

By CLAYTON M. LEGGE

A novel of more than ordinary interest, portraying many important characters and telling for the first time in fiction the sweet love story of "Bobbie Burns" and Highland Mary. Ten full-page illustrations. Price, $1.50.

ANOTHER QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER

Jay Gould Harmon

By GEORGE S. KIMBALL

The Boston Transcript, Nov. 8, 1905, says: "Full of vigor and distinctly realistic. Its description of the lumber drive is of compelling interest, an absolute photograph from life; indeed, a most remarkable piece of writing. Masterly handling of incident and dialogue. A splendid success." Illustrated. Price, $1.50.

The Man from Maine

By FRANK CARLOS GRIFFITH

Asa King's quaint and witty remarks in "The Man from Maine" are sure to provoke as much mirth as did the philosophy of David Harum. Fully illustrated. Price, $1.50.

Lords of the Soil

By LYDIA A. JOCELYN and

The Book of Spice

By "GINGER"

A NEW IDEA. Bound to be a big hit on your humorous counter. It may seem almost impossible but the author-illustrator has evolved a Book of Humor built on a new plan.

The author of The Book of Spice is a writer of widespread fame, who in this instance modestly hides behind a pseudonym to observe the reception of his first pictures, and his new ideas in humor to fit them.

Original, odd and snappy jingles and paragraphs set in double page illustrations drawn in divers and strange ways.

Pepper is very lively, Cinnamon is different, Thyme is not dull, Cloves leave no bad taste, Sage suggests no end of wisdom, Mustard is brilliant, Mace is irresistible, but this Book is All-spice. As unique in scheme as "The Foolish Dictionary," and far cleverer. Printed on Spice Paper; Bound in Spice Covers. Order at once and liberally.

SALOME

By OSCAR WILDE. With the Beardsley illustrations.

Oscar Wilde's remarkable tragedy of Salome has the double distinction of having been written for Sarah Bernhardt and illustrated by Aubrey Beardsley. Inserted, on Japanese vellum, are faithful reproductions of the Beardsley drawings, than which no better example of the suggestive and weird genius of the artist can be found. The appearance of this play in its entirety is particularly timely this fall, as Herr Conried has announced that the Metropolitan Opera Company is to include among its notable creations for this season the Strauss opera of Salome, the libretto of which is Mr. Wilde's play.

FROM
MUNN
& COMPANY'SAUTUMN LIST—1906*THE NEW AGRICULTURE

By T. BYARD COLLINS

8vo, Cloth, 376 Pages, 100 Illustrations, $2.00

This new and valuable work sets forth the changes which have taken place in American agricultural methods which are transforming farm life, formerly so hard, into the most independent, peaceful, and agreeable existence. Farm life to-day offers more inducements than at any previous period in the world's history, and it is calling millions from the desk. The present work is one of the most practical treatises on the subject which has ever been issued. It contains 376 pages and 100 illustrations. In brief the contents are as follows: A general statement of the advantages of farm life; the vast systems of irrigation which are transforming the great west; the principles and importance of fertilization; the importance of canals and good roads; some new interests which promise a profit; some new human creations in the plant world; new varieties of grain, root and fruit and the possibilities which they indicate; improper methods in agricultural practice; new machinery by which the drudgery of life on the farm is being eliminated. The relation of a body of specialists to the American farmer who can have the most expert advice upon every phase of his work without any expense whatever to himself is shown in Chapter X.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN BOY

By A. RUSSELL BOND

12mo, 320 Pages, 340 Illustrations
$2.00 postpaid

This is a story of outdoor boy life, suggesting a large number of diversions which, aside from affording entertainment, will stimulate in boys the creative spirit. In each instance complete practical instructions are given for building the various articles. The needs of the boy camper are supplied by the directions for making tramping outfits, sleeping bags and tents; also such other shelters as trees, houses, straw huts, log cabins and caves. The winter diversions include instructions for making six kinds of skate sails and eight kinds of snow shoes and skis, besides ice boats, scooters, sledges, toboggans, and a peculiar Swedish contrivance called a "rennwolf." Among the more instructive subjects covered are surveying, wigwagging, heliographing and bridge building, in which six different kinds of bridges, including a simple cantilever bridge, are described. In addition to these, the book contains a large number of miscellaneous devices, such as scows, canoes, land yachts, windmills, water wheels and the like.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN REFERENCE BOOK12mo, Cloth, 516 Pages. Illustrated
6 Colored Plates. $1.50

The result of the queries of three generations of readers and correspondents is crystallized in this book. It is indispensable to every family and business man. It deals with matters of interest to everybody. The book contains 50,000 facts, and is much more complete and more exhaustive than anything of the kind which has ever been attempted. It is a book of everyday reference, more useful than an encyclopædia, because you will find what you want in an instant in a more condensed form. Sixty years of experience alone have made it possible for the publishers of the Scientific American to present to the purchasers of this book a remarkable aggregation of information.

Fall Announcements

Odds and Ends from Pagoda Land

By W. C. GRIGGS, M.D.
Price, 90 cents.

Pagoda Land in Burma, and from the notebook of Doctor Griggs there have found their way into this volume bits of information and familiar gossip scarcely to be found elsewhere. From the byways in it, from the out-of-the-way places he has gathered them, and they ought to find a warm welcome from every mission band and circle in the land.

The Message of Hosea and the Twentieth Century

By Rev. B. A. COPASS.
Price, 50 cents.

The distinctive message of the prophet to Israel, or the man of his own time, was that their sin against God partook of the nature of unchastity. This same message Doctor Copass applies to our own times. It is a spirited interpretation of an old book applied in a virile way to modern life.

The Church at Libertyville

By J. W. CONLEY, D.D.
Price, $1.00.

As we all know, there are trying people in the church at large, and they help to bring about trying circumstances. In addition to these, there are trials in church and ministerial service that inhere inevitably in this phase of life. Doctor Conley has treated of these in story form, and in a very suggestive, animated, and helpful fashion.

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE BAPTISTS

By Prof. HENRY C. VEDDER, D.D. 12mo, 416 pp. Illustrated edition. Price, $1.50.

For a number of years now Professor Vedder's "Short History of the Baptists" has been a standard work in our libraries. In this present form it is enlarged and illustrated and thus has its value enhanced. It is a busy age. Ponderous volumes or many-volumed works are quite apt to be passed by or put aside for the leisure season that rarely comes. It is the compendium, the handbook, that gets the right of way. And so this short history will win its way while longer ones wait for their chance. It contains all that is essential. Beginning with the founding of Christianity, it traces its development and the sects that sprang up in its pathway, its decline and reformation, and the appearance and enlargement of our own denomination.

Sunny

By MARGARET A. FROST.
Price, 75 cents.

"Sunny" is the winsome daughter of a physician who becomes suddenly blind. In some way the child very early receives the idea that her father is under her special care, and that she must minister to him. The story weaves itself about this fact, and her development as to body and mind is full of interesting incidents.

The Self-Effacement of Malachi Joseph

By EVERETT T. TOMLINSON.
Price, $1.00.

A young man graduate of one of our theological seminaries desired settlement in an established field. He went to his professor for advice, with the result that he was told to go out and make a field for himself. This he did, and his trials and testings and triumphs are embodied in this book.

The Promotion

By Rev. JOHN M. DEAN.
Price, $1.00.

The author of this book spent several years in missionary work in the Philippine Islands, which form the scene of this story. It deals to some extent with our military operations therein, and also in a particularly gratifying way with our missionary work. The story has a somewhat sad ending, but its lesson and general influence will be found helpful.

The Book of the Prophet Jeremiah

By Prof. C. R. BROWN, D.D. Price $2.00.

Another portion of the American Commentary on the Old Testament. It will be a notable contribution, at once helpful to the scholar and the ordinary student.

For the Work of the Ministry

SOME EARLY AUTUMN BOOKS

The Secret of the Moor Cottage

By

H. RIPLEY CROMARSH

5x7½ INCHES; 285 PAGES; $1.25.

THE mere statement that this new novel is written by the sister of A. Conan Doyle is enough to awaken public curiosity. It is a story of mystery and adventure that naturally involves a detective, who ultimately works out the puzzle that surrounds him and later writes about it himself.

Father Pink

By

ALFRED WILSON BARRETT

5x7½ INCHES; 326 PAGES; $1.50.

A LIVELY narrative of wily machinations of a seemingly harmless priest, in which large property rights are involved, including a hoarded pile of diamonds, with eager rivals for the hand of the woman who owns the property in question. The priest, as the cleverest actor in the drama, is an unusually interesting character.

The Electric Theft

By

NEIL WYNN WILLIAMS

5x7½ INCHES; 311 PAGES; $1.50.

FOR one who likes action, and not analysis: an unhackneyed plot, original and novel, but reasonably probable; a love romance knit into the thread of incident, with a titanic struggle between two strong rivals, who make the very earth tremble in their efforts for mastery—for such a one this is a book well worth while.

Intimations of Immortality

Compiled by

HELEN P. PATTEN

5¼x8¼ INCHES; 280 PAGES; $1.50 net.

THE brief but salient comments of the great and learned of olden and modern times on Immortality—a compilation of remarkable diversity and value, arranged under such topics as The Testimony of the Ancients, The Speculations of Philosophy, The Voice of the Church, The Vision of the Poet.

The Cheerful Cricket

AND OTHERS

By

JEANNETTE MARKS

8¼x10¼ INCHES; 100 PAGES; $2.00.

THE life and doings of diminutive creatures of nature, expressed not in dull natural history facts, but in animated incident and action. Written in delightful language, with pictures in four colors that are fascinating. The most beautiful and entertaining juvenile of the year.

Stella's Adventures in Starland

By

ELBRIDGE H. SABIN

6x7¾ INCHES; 175 PAGES; $1.50.

FOR children it would be hard to find a more entertaining book than this. Prompt action, frequent incident, bright conversation, do not allow curiosity to flag. Mercury the Messenger-Boy, Ill-Tempered Mr. Moon, Venus and her School, Mr. Mars, and Neptune are characters that, along with the pictures, will delight any child.

Latter-Day Love Sonnets

Edited by

LAURENS MAYNARD

6x7¾ INCHES; 100 PAGES; $2.00 net.

THE latest addition to the LOVE SONNET SERIES, comprising the most brilliant Love Sonnets of nearly one hundred poets of the present day, both British and American—a notable group of poems and of authors, issued in the handsome style characteristic of this series.

In Childhood's Country

By

LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON

6¼x8¾ INCHES; 78 PAGES; $1.00 net.

A NEW edition of this delightful children's classic. What child will not be made happy over "Monk and Maid," "The Doll's Decline," "To Rosebud Ruth," "The Lily's Rival," and other verses written with the author's sympathy with and appreciation of the child mind?

New and Unique Editions

THE SONG OF OUR SYRIAN GUEST

By WILLIAM ALLEN KNIGHT, is produced in a unique manner, with peculiar artistic taste, that not only makes the publication pleasing as an example of book-making, but satisfies the artistic sense by its originality and harmony of scheme.

An interesting frontispiece from a painting by Harold Sichel will embellish the fore part of this publication; also the Twenty-third Psalm printed in two colors with decorative border and decorations. The book throughout printed in two colors; harmonious and decorative fly-leaves, bound in boards with colored label; size 8 x 5 inches, about 40 pages. 50c. net, postage 6c.

The Pilgrim Press have produced a limited number of THE SONG OF OUR SYRIAN GUEST, especially decorated, bound in ooze leather, with an appropriate and striking design, in blind tooling, and a gold die, gilt top, decorative fly-leaves, enclosed in a box. This edition is particularly pleasing as a gift-book for all seasons. $1.25 net, postage 8c.

THE SONG OF OUR SYRIAN GUEST

(Envelope Edition)

This edition of the SONG OF OUR SYRIAN GUEST is printed in two colors with a decorated title-page and the Twenty-third Psalm, and has end papers of an attractive character that give especial interest to the publication. The cover of heavy Ganges stock, double folded, printed in two colors and gilt, and enclosed in an envelope ready for mailing. Size 4 1/4 x 7 1/4, about 32 pages. 35c. postage 5c.

A YEAR OF GOOD CHEER

60 pages, size 5 1/2 x 7 inches, bound in flexible cover with decorated label, tinted top and special fly-leaves. Printed in two colors. Has a beautiful insert. Enclosed in a slip box. 50c. net, postage 8c. The same book will also be fully bound in fine green ooze, with decorative gold stamp. A particularly pleasing gift-book. $1.00 net, postage 8c.

THE LOVE WATCH

Size 7 1/2 x 5 1/4, 60 pages, bound in turned covers decorated in gold, purple and green, with pleasing fly-leaves of original character. This book will include an insert, designed by Harold Sichel, printed in three colors, which addition gives added interest and charm to this delightful book. 60 c. net, postage 6c.

CHRISTMAS CARD

This card is produced in the form of a folder, enclosed in a decorated envelope. The folder when spread to full length is 19 1/2 x 9 inches high, which being printed on heavy paper folds in four sections, so that it stands similar to a four-section screen upon desk or table.

This Folder includes a reproduction, in four colors, of the SHEPHERD from a painting by Harold Sichel, in opposition to which is the TWENTY-THIRD PSALM, also printed in four colors, embellished throughout in gold and red. 35 c. net, postage 3c.

The Book of Common Worship

Prepared by the Committee of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

For Voluntary Use

LARGE TYPE EDITION

Price, 75 cents, postpaid; in quantities, 50 cents, delivery extra.
Full leather, $1.50; postage extra.

SMALLER EDITION, 35 cents, postpaid; in quantities, 25 cents, delivery extra.
Full leather, $1.00; postage, 5 cents.

The very large demand for the book and the warm commendation that the work of the Committee has received on all sides, clearly indicate that the Book of Common Worship has met a real need, and that it is destined to a wide and increasing usefulness.

"It contains nothing which could not be employed with edification by any sincere believer in the Lord Jesus Christ."

"The thoroughness of the workmanship manifested in this book is admirable. The book has homogeneity of style, and the style is of a quality at once liturgical and literary, lofty and not stilted; smooth yet virile, devout and not affected. The book has unity and balance of parts and a large measure of completeness. It is an achievement that is an honor to our Church and will command notice and respect from the Christian world. Our age is not esteemed one fitted for creed- or liturgy-making. The Brief Statement was surprisingly well done, nevertheless, and the Book of Common Worship far surpasses it."—The Westminster.

"It is Protestant, Trinitarian, Christological, and imbued with the spirit of the Westminster Confession. Whether it will ever be generally used by Presbyterian ministers in the pulpit is not so important a question as whether ministers will use its forms as a model by which to frame their own free supplications, and thus give dignity to that part of our service which should be the most impressive and which is often least worthy. Its forms for Marriage, Burial, and Reception of Members, we doubt not, soon will be in common use."—The Interior.

"There can hardly fail to be, however, a warm reception both within and without the Presbyterian Church for this honest and praiseworthy effort to meet a real need. . . . The movement toward the enrichment of the service has gained strength with every passing year, and we are as far away, generally speaking, from the unadorned service of the Pilgrim Fathers and Colonial days as we are from their bare and homely meeting houses."—The Boston Transcript.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO

PUBLISHERS : : : : :

Of course you know that in January last we moved our Book Factory to the present address. It may also interest you to know that we then acquired additional space to the extent of 15,000 square feet and that we have since added 5,000 feet more. Even this has proved insufficient and we have now secured still another 15,000 feet. These facts would seem to indicate that our work and our methods were giving general satisfaction to our patrons, and while we are not seeking additional orders for 1906 delivery, we are making all possible preparation for handling your next year's business.

A Sermon for all Seasons. By MARGARET COLLIER GRAHAM. This brochure represents the author's finest work. The humor, truth, and searching analysis that lays bare affectation and "motive" in the giving of gifts goes directly home to most of us givers or recipients. We look at the pages and see ourselves mirrored in brilliantly polished phrase or sparkling humor. A beautiful spirit of sincere gift-giving adds a new joy to the Christmas spirit. Beautifully decorated and bound, "wood veneer" covers; text in two colors. 50 pages. Size, $4\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$. Board edition, 75 cents; leather edition, \$1.25.

BIRDALONE ESSAY SERIES

50 cts. net.

The first issue of this series will include Emerson's FRIENDSHIP, PRUDENCE, HEROISM, and are now ready for distribution. The publishers' object is to give a beautiful book, clearly printed, perfect in form and convenient in shape. The above have been designed by Fred W. Goudy. Title and text in two colors; a decorated frontispiece in three colors. Size, $4\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$. Bound in flexible boards, 50 cents; leather stamped with gold, \$1.00.

LIONS

$2.50 net.

By JOSEPH SIMPSON, with introduction by Haldane Macfall. A series of remarkable characters by the great Caricaturist, whose brush paints a striking portrait, accentuates personal peculiarities without a touch of brutality or vulgarity. Published in portfolio form, to include fourteen pictures, including Theodore Roosevelt, Kipling, Rockefeller, Morgan and other great figures whose minds are shaping the course of Policies, Finance and the Arts. Portfolio, tipped portraits on Japan Vellum. Size, 11 x 15 inches. Price (later).

OVER IN THE MEADOW

$1.00 net.

A remarkable book for very little boys and girls. The old verses of Olive Wadsworth's "Over in the Meadow," with additions set to music by Mabel Wood Hill: captivating drawings by Harold Sichel, all in three colors. Story, song and pretty sermon crowded with fun and suggestion; absolutely original in every way. Dealers are urgently advised to order liberally. Size $8\frac{1}{4} \times 10\frac{1}{2}$; bound in boards; brilliant cover; new scheme. Price, \$1.00 net.

CARDS, FOLDERS, LEAFLETS.

An extensive line of beautifully printed and wisely selected Mottoes and Aphorisms have been produced by Morgan Shepard Company. The colors, designs and forms are entirely new; the prices range from 10 cents to 20 cents each; liberal discounts in quantity orders.

THE STRUGGLE

It is a problematic novel at an opportune time

By SIDNEY C. TAPP"The Jungle has been out-Jungled."—Baltimore World."It is destined to have an effect upon our civilization, that no novel has had since 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.'"—Atlanta News.

The Metropolitan press have made a "find" in the book; they say the characters in the book have their doubles in our civilization. It is a book that is here not for a day, but for the generation.
